Deadlock Due U.N. Study

Disarm Parley To Recess From Sept. 8 To Nov. 12

GENEVA (AP)—The 17-nation disarmament conference agreed today to recess from Sept. 8 to Nov. 12 while their deadlock is referred back to the U.N. General Assembly.

The United States and the Soviet Union, cochairmen of the conference, had agreed Tuesday on the recess.

The meeting also instructed U.S. Ambassador Arthur H. Dean and Soviet First Deputy Foreign Minister Vasily V. Kuznetsov to consult during the recess about another date for resumption of the talks.

The recess date was a compromise between the recommendation of the cochairmen and desires of Sweden, India and Canada.

Dean reiterated today that the United States cannot accept a Soviet proposal for the destruction of all means of delivering nuclear weapons and the elimination of foreign bases in the first stage of three proposed stages of world disarmament.

He called the proposal "a thinly disguised effort to bring about the complete dismantling of the Western defense system, the reasons for the existence of which are so well-known."

134 Pro-Reds Are Killed By Viet Forces

First Success In Major Offensive In Mekong Delta

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) —South Vietnamese troops today reported 134 Red guerrillas killed in the first success of the government's major offensive to break the back of the Communist force in the Mekong River delta.

Military sources said the government's 1st Airborne Battalion encountered a large concentration of Viet Cong guerrillas Tuesday night a few miles south of the operation's command post at Bac Lieu, in southern Ba Xuyen Province.

An estimated 300 guerrillas ambushed the government battalion after U.S. Marine helicopters had ferried the South Vietnamese troops into the area. The paratroops fought their way out of the ambush and chased the fleeing guerrillas through the flooded rice fields.

Government troops counted 54 dead guerrillas. The Vietnamese air force claimed its follow-up strafing attacks on the fleeing guerrillas killed 80 more Reds. American sources could not confirm the government claims.

Government casualties totaled six killed and 14 wounded.

Government forces also captured a small store of Communist arms and fuel in the clash, the first time South Vietnamese troops have met a sizable Red force since they opened "Operation Big Pacification" last week.

Rings Valued At $450 Stolen From Jewelry

A diamond engagement and wedding ring set valued at $450 was stolen from the show case of an E. 6th St. jewelry sometime early Tuesday afternoon, police were told.

Mrs. Alvis Andrews, 1819 St. Clair Ave., a clerk, said the rings disappeared from the case at the Dopler Jewelry, 130 E. 6th St., owned by Mrs. Irene Dopler, 810 St. George St.

Mrs. Andrews said she last remembered seeing the rings at 12:30 p. m. She discovered at 2:30 that they were missing, she said.

Steamer Trunk Yields 2nd Body

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — A steamer trunk has yielded a second body from under the cement floor of a garage in San Francisco's Ingleside district.

Police, who unearthed the trunk Tuesday night, said they assumed the decomposed body is that of Mildred Arneson, 58, wife of 70-year-old Jay Arneson, whose body was found about 12 feet away Monday night.

The bodies were found under two recently laid layers of cement flooring of the home of a couple police say took over the Arneson's Santa Rosa, Calif., motel after their disappearance.

Mrs. Arneson and her husband were divorced but she continued to care for him because he was an invalid.

Arneson, a World War I Army major, had been buried under the concrete in the garage of the modest frame house. Police said he had been strangled with a black belt still around his neck. They said they had not yet determined the cause of the woman's death.

Investigators arrested the owner of the house, Ralph Kroeger, 61, a hod carrier, and issued a warrant for the arrest of Kroeger's wife, Iva, 44.

Chief of Inspectors Dan McKlem said Kroeger also denied knowing the whereabouts of his wife. FBI agents said she had been seen nearby last Friday in the company of a boy, possibly her grandson.

Discovery of Arneson's body and the subsequent unearthing of the trunk climaxed a long police search for the Arnesons. Mrs. Arneson disappeared last December after telling friends she would sell the Arnesons' Santa Rosa motel and go to Brazil. Arneson dropped from sight in January.

A construction worker's tip led to the discovery of the bodies.

Hungry But Unharmed

2 Missing Girls Found Safe In Vacant Building

ALEXANDRIA, Va. (AP) — A bad dream ended happily for the haggard parents of two 7-year-old girls missing 48 hours but found safe in a nearby vacant apartment where they had been trapped by a faulty lock.

Two FBI agents, making one more routine check of nearby buildings, found the youngsters late Tuesday.

Hungry, but unharmed by their ordeal, pigtailed Maria Teresa Moreley and her pal, black-haired Rita Ohlgren, came home to joyous welcomes from families and neighbors.

They had been missing since Sunday afternoon and had spent two nights locked in a bathroom of the untenanted second-floor apartment.

The girls said they had gone in to use the bathroom as they had often done while playing nearby. This time, the defective lock trapped them in the small windowless room.

At first, they banged and yelled. When no one heard and the hours ticked by, they settled down to wait. They tried to open the lock with the hook end of a two-inch spring Maria Teresa had with her. They spent some time drawing with crayons.

Finally, they huddled together to sleep in the lavender bathtub.

"It was cold," Maria Teresa said, and they became hungry.

The girls were dressed in shorts and sleeveless blouses and they shivered in the air conditioning which was operating in the empty apartment. They had nothing to eat since noontime Sunday, but there was plenty of water.

Panic Spreads

New Tremors Strike Italy; Jackie's Safe

15 Killed, 100 Hurt By Earthquake

U.S. First Lady, Daughter Are 45 Miles From Area

NAPLES, Italy (AP) — New earth tremors spread panic in southern Italy early today after a severe earthquake Tuesday night that took about 15 lives and injured at least 100.

No foreigners were reported among the dead and injured.

The earth shocks left a trail of damage from this port city to the Adriatic coast. Some of the deaths were attributed to heart attacks from fright. Many of the injured were hurt in panicky flights from swaying homes and buildings.

Jacqueline Kennedy's cliffside vacation villa at Ravello is only 45 miles southwest of the apparent epicenter of the worst quake. Only slight tremors were felt there and Mrs. Kennedy's 4-year-old daughter Caroline and the rest of the household remained calm, servants said.

The American First Lady was visiting in the garden of another villa across town. Only a slight tremor was felt there.

Premier Amintore Fanfani flew here today to help officials speed relief.

Thousands of frightened Italians spent the night in the open. New shocks at 4:10 a.m. and 7:15 a.m. followed Tuesday night's major quake at 7:30 p.m.

This Neapolitan city kept its public parks open for refugees. Police estimated a third of the 1,500,000 residents spent the night in the open.

Several bridges were wrecked, telephone lines knocked down, water and power systems in many communities cut off. Police patrolled glass-littered streets of stricken towns against looters.

Geologic disasters—earthquakes and volcanic eruptions—are not new in this area around Vesuvius, the volcano that buried the city of Pompei 1,900 years ago.

The worst shocks struck in an area between two cities that have felt disastrous quakes in the 20th century—Avezzano where 30,000 persons were killed in 1915, and Messina where 75,000 perished in 1908.

A Neapolitan woman was struck by a falling cornice stone and killed. Two other Neapolitans died of heart attacks.

6th Day Of Tension

U.S. Police Halt 3 Soviet Cars At Berlin's Border

BERLIN (AP) —U.S. Military Police held up three Soviet armored cars for 45 minutes today at the border on the sixth day of rising tension in this front line city of the cold war.

A U.S. spokesman on the spot said they were refused entry but went through anyhow. Informants said the Russians were barred because of Soviet rejection of an escort.

When the Soviets first arrived at the checkpoint, an American jeep pulled out in front of them, blocking their way. When an American Army sedan got into position to escort the armored cars, the jeep pulled back into a courtyard.

At first, the Russians refused to get out of their olive drab cars, marked with the red star. Then two Soviet officers emerged and talked with a U.S. major.

A U.S. Army sedan trailed the Soviet convoy to the Soviet war memorial in the British sector.

The Russians returned about 45 minutes later and were quickly waved through the checkpoint into East Berlin.

The Russians have repeatedly rejected escorts while traveling in West Berlin despite the stoning by West Berlin demonstrators. They switched from buses to armored cars.

Earlier, East German border guards and West Berlin police fought with rocks and tear gas grenades across the Communist wall.

West police said the new clash erupted when the Red guards opened up with a rock barrage. They were driven back with tear gas grenades. No injuries were reported on either side.

The flareup came near Bernauer Strasse, scene of many daring escapes since the Communists built the barrier dividing the city.

During the night, West police rounded up 126 persons for identity checks in a hunt for Communist agents. The Western commandants have charged Red agents were fanning the demonstrations in West Berlin. All were released.

Heavy rains cleared the streets of West Berlin demonstrators during the night.

The Soviet war memorial sentries—stoned for three nights in a row—went to their posts in armored cars Tuesday night.

Wellsville Tie Stymies New Gas Rate Plan

Council President Refuses To Break Deadlock 3-3 Vote

Wellsville City Council Tuesday night voted 3-3 on accepting a new gas rate proposal presented by the Ohio Valley Gas Co. and the measure died when Mrs. Mary Rahter, Council president, refrained from breaking the tie.

The proposal calls for a general increase of 8.6 per cent over the present rates. It will be presented again at the next meeting. Mrs. Rahter said she wants to study the measure further before voting.

B. W. Cox of Steubenville, a special representative, and Harold R. Sneddon, local manager, briefly reviewed the proposal again last night. It would cost the average heating customer about $1 more a month, they said.

A discussion was held on the ordinance presented by the utility. Council questioned a section dealing with taxation of the utility, pointing out that, according to the wording, any taxes imposed on the firm would be passed on to the consumer.

Cox said this is a protection against a possible meter tax. He said the utility is immune to any city income tax, according to state law, but could come under the jurisdiction of a state income tax, which would be passed on to the consumer.

When it was indicated this was the main point of contention, Cox agreed to have the entire section stricken from the contract if Council desired to take action.

Councilman Donald Miller moved, seconded by Councilman Robert Taggart, the proposal be adopted. Councilmen Allen Baldwin, William Stroble and Mrs. Kay Drago cast dissenting votes with Councilman Frank DeLonzo joining with Miller and Taggart.

Stroble said he does not believe Council is capable of deal-

Further Study Due Pay Tax At Wellsville

Councilman Defers Sponsoring Plan To Hear From Experts

A wage tax proposal in Wellsville, along with the general financial picture of the community, are due for further study by City Council.

At a session Tuesday night, Council again heard a report from Councilman Donald Miller, finance chairman, who had said at the last meeting he would present a motion to adopt a tax.

Miller said he has obtained much information on a wage tax, but would like the entire Council or at least the finance committee to meet with "experts" on the proposal.

He said he has contacted those who have helped draft the necessary legislation for other communities and will set up a meeting later.

Miller said he believes that eight-tenths of one per cent would be sufficient for Wellsville, but commented he would like to obtain further information.

Only a few persons were in the audience and Miller expressed surprise at this, commenting he expected a "full house" after the initial announcement that he would propose an "income tax."

Miller explained that he would like to see Council adopt such a measure and then await further action on any collection until it was determined if residents would seek a referendum vote. "This is the only way I would agree to the tax myself," he siad.

Miller said he does not want to "shove the tax down the people's throats." He said a special election would cost $3,000 to $4,000

Bank Holdup Tied To Big Mail Stickup

BOSTON (AP)—A machine gun gang which held up a Lynn bank last spring and shot it out with police while escaping was linked today with the highwaymen who grabbed a record $1.5 million from a U.S. mail truck last week.

State police Capt. Michael J. Cullinane said Tuesday night he noticed a strong facial resemblance between composite pictures of two mail robbery suspects and descriptions of two of three men who fled the Essex Trust Co. branch in West Lynn last March 30 with $28,500.

In the West Lynn holdup, two masked bandits held 14 customers and 10 clerks at bay with a machine gun and a pistol and escaped in a car driven by a third man.

The composites of the two mail robber suspects are known as "Buster" and "Tony." Their faces were pieced together from information supplied by the driver and guard in the hijacked mail van.

He said he has contacted those who have helped draft the necessary legislation for other communities and will set up a meeting later.

Miller said he believes that eight-tenths of one per cent would be sufficient for Wellsville, but commented he would like to obtain further information.

Only a few persons were in the audience and Miller expressed surprise at this, commenting he expected a "full house" after the initial announcement that he would propose an "income tax."

Miller explained that he would like to see Council adopt such a measure and then await further action on any collection until it was determined if residents would seek a referendum vote. "This is the only way I would agree to the tax myself," he siad.

Miller said he does not want to "shove the tax down the people's throats." He said a special election would cost $3,000 to $4,000

Bank Holdup Tied To Big Mail Stickup

BOSTON (AP)—A machine gun gang which held up a Lynn bank last spring and shot it out with police while escaping was linked today with the highwaymen who grabbed a record $1.5 million from a U.S. mail truck last week.

State police Capt. Michael J. Cullinane said Tuesday night he noticed a strong facial resemblance between composite pictures of two mail robbery suspects and descriptions of two of three men who fled the Essex Trust Co. branch in West Lynn last March 30 with $28,500.

In the West Lynn holdup, two masked bandits held 14 customers and 10 clerks at bay with a machine gun and a pistol and escaped in a car driven by a third man.

The composites of the two mail robber suspects are known as "Buster" and "Tony." Their faces were pieced together from information supplied by the driver and guard in the hijacked mail van.

County To Settle Claim For Sheep

LISBON — County commissioners, at a meeting Monday, authorized payment of $389.35 for 25 head of sheep killed by stray dogs on the F. M. Williamson farm at Lisbon R. D. 5.

Dogs killed the sheep, according to Warden Russell Reichenbach, who said owners of dogs running loose at night will be held responsible for any damage done.

In other business, commissioners authorized payment of $300 slag grants to Butler and Yellow Creek Townships. The board approved a plat of Jesse M. Parshall's fourth addition in Section 12 in Yellow Creek Township, consisting of 18 lots. There are 17.482 acres.

The commissioner's next regular meeting will be Thursday from 9 a. m. until noon. The Courthouse will be closed at noon today and Thursday so that employes can attend the County Fair.

Today In History

By The Associated Press

Today is Wednesday, Aug. 22, the 234th day of 1962. There are 131 days left in the year.

Today's highlight in history:

On this day in 1911, Leonardo Da Vinci's painting, "Mona Lisa," was stolen from the Louvre in Paris. It was recovered two years later in Italy.

On this date:

In 1787, the first practical steamboat in America was de - monstrated on the Delaware River near Philadelphia by John Fitch.

In 1846, a proclamation at Santa Fe announced the annexation of New Mexico as a territory of the United States.

In 1891, 64 persons were killed by a falling building in New York City.

In 1946, Marshal Tito freed seven Americans who were aboard a U.S. plane forced down by Yugoslav fighter craft.

In 1950, an Egyptian Army officer swam the English Channel in 10 hours and 53 minutes—a record which since has been broken.

Today's birthdays: Poet Dorothy Parker is 69.

Thought for today:

Learn the right of coining words in the quick mint of joy—Leigh Hunt.

326 Given Heaf TB Test At Palestine

EAST PALESTINE — A total of 326 received the Heaf tuberculosis test at a clinic conducted Monday at City Hall by the Board of Health and the Public Health League. This included 226 food handlers. The remainder are employes of the L. W. Nash Co.

The results will be read Thursday. Those with a positive reaction will participate in a followup program and later, those who need it, will be given chest X-rays.

A clinic will be held at the Royal China Co. Friday. Threehundred are expected to participate. The test is replacing the traditional chest X-ray program.

Insurance Ordered

EAST PALESTINE—The Board of Education Monday night awarded a contract to Harry R. Crabb, a Farm Bureau insurance agent, for insurance on the city school buses and driver training cars. Crabb had the contract last year. The board also voted to re-tar the roof of the E. North Ave. building. The school bus schedules will be announced within a few days.

County To Settle Claim For Sheep

LISBON — County commissioners, at a meeting Monday, authorized payment of $389.35 for 25 head of sheep killed by stray dogs on the F. M. Williamson farm at Lisbon R. D. 5.

Dogs killed the sheep, according to Warden Russell Reichenbach, who said owners of dogs running loose at night will be held responsible for any damage done.

In other business, commissioners authorized payment of $300 slag grants to Butler and Yellow Creek Townships. The board approved a plat of Jesse M. Parshall's fourth addition in Section 12 in Yellow Creek Township, consisting of 18 lots. There are 17.482 acres.

The commissioner's next regular meeting will be Thursday from 9 a. m. until noon. The Courthouse will be closed at noon today and Thursday so that employes can attend the County Fair.

Today In History

By The Associated Press

Today is Wednesday, Aug. 22, the 234th day of 1962. There are 131 days left in the year.

Today's highlight in history:

On this day in 1911, Leonardo Da Vinci's painting, "Mona Lisa," was stolen from the Louvre in Paris. It was recovered two years later in Italy.

On this date:

In 1787, the first practical steamboat in America was demonstrated on the Delaware River near Philadelphia by John Fitch.

In 1846, a proclamation at Santa Fe announced the annexation of New Mexico as a territory of the United States.

In 1891, 64 persons were killed by a falling building in New York City.

In 1946, Marshal Tito freed seven Americans who were aboard a U.S. plane forced down by Yugoslav fighter craft.

In 1950, an Egyptian Army officer swam the English Channel in 10 hours and 53 minutes—a record which since has been broken.

Today's birthdays: Poet Dorothy Parker is 69.

Thought for today:

Learn the right of coining words in the quick mint of joy—Leigh Hunt.

326 Given Heaf TB Test At Palestine

EAST PALESTINE — A total of 326 received the Heaf tuberculosis test at a clinic conducted Monday at City Hall by the Board of Health and the Public Health League. This included 226 food handlers. The remainder are employes of the L. W. Nash Co.

The results will be read Thursday. Those with a positive reaction will participate in a followup program and later, those who need it, will be given chest X-rays.

A clinic will be held at the Royal China Co. Friday. Threehundred are expected to participate. The test is replacing the traditional chest X-ray program.

Insurance Ordered

EAST PALESTINE—The Board of Education Monday night awarded a contract to Harry R. Crabb, a Farm Bureau insurance agent, for insurance on the city school buses and driver training cars. Crabb had the contract last year. The board also voted to re-tar the roof of the E. North Ave. building. The school bus schedules will be announced within a few days.

Meanwhile, Back At The Ranch

They're speculating in Washington about the reason for that temper explosion by Sen. Symington which blew George M. Humphrey out of the headlines when he was getting to the meat of his testimony in the stockpile investigation.

The best guess is that Sen. Symington, chairman of the subcommittee making the investigation, wanted to stop while he had a chance to get in the last word—so he stopped it with a temper tantrum.

This is backed up by another guess. Sen. Symington wanted to stop because the investigation wasn't turning out the way he and other Democrats hoped it would. The witness was winning all the points and the investigators were floundering.

If things had gone better, Billie Sol Estes would have been forgotten in the excitement of a scandal at the Eisenhower administration's expense. But with things going badly, people were wondering how another crew of Democrats were getting along with the Estes investigation.

That investigation is under the supervision of Sen. John L. McClellan, the old pro from Arkansas. It is being handled so adroitly and is so complex in its nature that Billie Sol Estes almost has disappeared from the news.

It wouldn't have been too hard a trick to obliterate the big cotton-and-tank man from Pecos if George Humphrey hadn't put Sen. Symington on the defensive. As it is, Sen. Symington has withdrawn from investigating until he convalesces from an operation, former President Eisenhower's secretary of the treasury has gone home without a scratch and, back at the ranch in Pecos, Billie Sol Estes is still trying to straighten out his tangled financial affairs.

Washington is chuckling about the whole thing.

Weigh The Issues

The campaign tempo is picking up in Columbiana County as candidates from both parties make their bids for votes in the forthcoming election.

Now is the time for the individual voter to begin his or her evaluation, not on Nov. 6 when the balloting is held.

As the candidates take part in various rallies, make it a point to be on hand when possible. Ask them questions about pertinent issues, then weigh one side against the other. Don't make your choice blindly.

Did They Get The Message

Not being able to see inside the heads of the creeping socializers who tried to filibuster themselves into control of satellite space communications, no one on the private enterprise side of the issue can know how they are taking their licking in the U.S. Senate.

It would be reassuring if the rest of us could believe, though, that they got the message. It was spelled out.

We have no faith in creeping socialism. We think if satellite communications had been a government project Telstar still would be a dog-eared blueprint in some bureaucratic filing cabinet.

We think the United States finally did something first because this project was being pushed hard by people who had a powerful incentive to get the job done and who were permitted to go ahead with it as fast as they could.

We think that the argument of the creeping socialists that the whole thing belonged to the politicians because public money had made possible the painstaking and expensive groundwork behind Telstar is even phonier than a $3 bill. If that argument were true, the airplane industry would belong to the government.

We think the people of the United States have no interest in creeping socialism; that they are contented to keep Uncle Sam in an umpire's suit and not let him get into the game unless it's absolutely necessary.

In somewhat fewer words, the creeping socialists had the electronics kicked out of them in the Senate, where they lost 66-11, and the House, where they lost 354-9. We're happy about the whole thing.

Use The Banks

Every time a breaking and entering occurs it re-emphasizes the need for proprietors of business establishments to take every precaution against the loss of a substantial sum of money.

Banking of each day's receipts is the logical method. With night deposit boxes available, banking has become an around-the-clock operation.

Take advantage of the facilities. Retention of large sums in your own place of business is an open invitation to thieves.

Lest The Weed Take Root

This is the year of the big push for a 35-hour week. It was announced last Spring by leading unionists like Walter Reuther and George Meany, and the issue was officialized by President Kennedy and Labor Secretary Goldberg, who said they didn't think it was a good idea.

This an attempt to mislead people into believing the purpose is to shorten the work week; that is something like going from the 12-hour to the 8-hour day, or the 6-day to the 5-day week. This is supposed to give the 35-hour week a good name—make it a humanitarian measure.

That is not the purpose at all.

The purpose as we see it is to collect premium wages for all hours worked in excess of 35. The Reuther idea in this regard is to collect double time for all hours worked in excess of 40 hours. At present time and a half is the employer's penalty.

This gives an employer a Hobson's choice: He can go broke paying overtime wages, or he can go broke adding fringe benefits for extra employes he doesn't need.

There isn't a labor leader in existence who doesn't know that industry has reached the minimum work week feasible. Even at 40 hours, there must be premium pay to keep production going. Unions now bargain for premium pay as avidly as they bargain for straight pay.

When labor was fighting for an 8-hour day and a 48-hour week, the issue was a working man's right to live for something besides his job.

When it was fighting for a work week shortened to 40 hours, the issue was still whether a working man was entitled to a fuller life.

The issue in a 35-hour week is whether a working man is entitled to time-and-a-half wages for work performed beyond the limits of an unreasonable shortened work week.

It is wage inflation. It should be called by its right name.

Do Not Wait For It

It would be confusion piled on confusion if the railroad industry inadvertently led the public to believe it wants to get rid of featherbedding so it can cut the cost of its service to the public.

In recent years the result of developing more efficiency, which is the other way to describe why railroads want to eliminate featherbedding, rarely has been lower cost to the public.

The automobile industry ,for example, has worked tirelessly to develop more efficiency and with considerable success according to statistics showing the relationship between units produced and employes required to produce them. But the only reduction in price finally came about when the auto industry built smaller cars to compete with imported compacts, following the example of the one U.S. company that had been competing with them on these terms.

If anyone grew curious enough to wonder what happened to the idea that mass production made it possible for more consumers to buy more goods at ever-lower prices, he was ruled out of order. It was explained that efficiency merely made it possible to keep prices from being pushed out of reach by ever-increasing costs of production.

It's an old story. The rialroads now are pointing out that the shipping and traveling public pays unionized rail workers about $600 million a year for work not needed or not performed; i.e., featherbedding.

The implication is that if featherbedding were eliminated the shipping and traveling public would be $600 million ahead. But don't wait for lower rates if featherbedding goes. That's not the way it's done. For the railroads, $600 million merely would make a dent in the deficit.

Purely Personal

By Truman Twill

As a seasoned yard bird, my advice to householders worrying about burnt-out lawns this August is to be greatful. Next Spring they will be mowing their heads off and wondering what makes the grass grow so fast.

The United Nations is in danger of being like the school teacher who always threatens to do something dire but lacks the wherewithal to command respect and winds up at the mercy of her unruly pupils.

There are things I wish I could avoid doing in extremely warm weather, such as slaving over a hot typewriter. But I shall be eternally grateful for one thing — that I am not a woman wearing a girdle to keep up appearances.

Nothing in politics fascinates me like the way Cleveland Democrats who want to be mayor declare their independence of the Democratic organization, in order to pick up Republican votes and the way Republican voters fall for the tired gag year in and year out.

I think if merchants eager to do business on Sunday would look into the evolution of Sunday closing they would learn it came about because merchants wanted a day off just like their customers. Some people like to go shopping on Sundays, so what? Some would like to shop at 3 a.m. on Tuesday.

It is my view that our highway people should send a bright fellow to Britain to learn how they keep their rights of way mowed and shipshape, also litter-free. I suspect it's because they believe highways should be easy to look at as well as easy to drive on.

I think it would be fun to sleep once more on a bed of springy pine boughs like the one I made once on a camping trip, except this time I'd take along an inner spring mattress.

U.S.-Thai Teams Give Reds A Battle

By Victor Riesel

BANGKOK

Up in the tangled, almost impassable northeast territory, which is the next target on the global Communist timetable, we're giving the Soviets a run for their secret money — and it's a pleasure to report it.

Victor Riesel

The Sino-Soviet field commanders have chosen to soften up that corner of the free world (and perhaps even take it from within without firing a carbine) because the villagers there have never seen an auto, a foreigner, a movie, an aircraft or electric light and power. Nor have they ever been contacted by a representative of the central Thailand government.

Those villagers, therefore, don't know who their national leader is, or if they have one, or whether he is a king or chieftain or headman.

To that frontier, which may soon make names such as Amphur That Phanom and Amphur Khemma-raj as well known as Laos, Katanga and Leopoldville, the Thari and U. S. governments are dispatching joint mobile "information teams."

To me, the men in those units are heroes. They are working for you and all free peoples. You should know of them — and their hardships.

THEY GO up northeast to counter the Communist cadres — and they get there first and with the most. They soft sell.

They carry with them everything from small pox inoculation medical kits to generators and motion picture equipment and 60 quarts of Mekong whiskey for social gatherings.

Most members of the mobile unit are Thais from this city. With them is an American. These units run from eight to eleven men. At least one man has died on such a venture. For the others, the journeys have not exactly been picnics, except for the ants.

It is fascinating to describe a typical day in this virtually unknown effort to win friends and influence them against the enemies of decency:

Traveling with a mobile information team is much like being part of a road show. Here, however, the players are on stage 18 hours a day.

The arrival of the team — made up of Bangkok officials, a foreigner, three cars, movie equipment and a "show" — is a climactic event in this isolated part of the world.

Every action and gesture of the team members stirs the most intense and friendly curiosity. From the time of arising at 6 a.m. until bedtime at midnight, the audence is on hand. There is an unending lack of privacy. And a chronic lack of sleep.

SOMETIMES the teams have to sleep on the ground without beds or mattresses; sometimes there are cots and sometimes just blankets on the salva wat floor. And the nights are filled with loud temple music. Many nights are brightened throughout by lights from the villagers' strange lanterns.

There can be no complaints. The music and the lights are part of the local customs. And the team is there to prove that the central Thai government and the foreign observer from a far-off land called the United States are friends.

So no one complains, not even about the variety of exotic foods placed before him by villagers who want the team members to share the local delicacies.

One such repast, for example, was made up of the usual glutenous rice, plara (fermented fish), boiled rattan shoots, tree fungus, roasted cicadas (bitter), red ants garnished with ant eggs (sour but very tasty), and young leaves from forest trees. Of course, there were many more conventional foods all the way from eggs to roots.

But these the villagers consider commonplace. If the delicacies were rejected the villager' pride would have been overtly slapped and the mobile unit might as well have stayed in Bangkok.

IN TURN, the team offered the villagers Mekong whiskey. When this ran out there was satoe, a homemade rice beer, and laotoe, a high proof white liquid which tastes very odd, indeed. But it has a happy effect. The team could use the liquor. The weather rises and falls 40 degrees from over 90 to below 50 — in a day.

Despite the rough regimen, the teams do well. They give medical aid. They show motion pictures of railroads and other means of transport which prove to the villagers that there is an outside world which is their own land and nation. They distribute pictures of the King.

Soon there will be radio broadcasts so the headman with a battery receiver can pick up programs from Bangkok instead of the Communist secret transmitter called "The Voice of the People of Thailand."

It's just one small sector on the global front. But we seem to be winning. Maybe here the local folks will turn to us first. Maybe here they will fight back against Communist terror before it seizes more land.

Maybe here local peoples will fight for themselves and men from other lands will not need to fly 10,000 miles to a jungle front.

Down Through The Years

From The Review Files

THIRTY YEARS AGO — Alice Louise Morehouse, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Morehouse of Penn Ave., Midland, was chosen "Miss O'Ginney" during the baby parade held at the O'Ginney playlot.

Lampson Howard Crawford of Center Ave., who returned from a year's trip abroad, addressed the Wellsville Rotary Club.

TWENTY YEARS AGO — Mrs. Richard Allison of W. 6th St. left to visit her husband at Camp Algiers, New Orleans, La.

Members of the Wellsville Teachers Association held a picnic at Thompson Park in honor of Mrs. Mary Stonebraker, who resigned to accept a position elsewhere.

TEN YEARS AGO—Miss Judith Dunlap, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Dunlap of Park Blvd., concluded a two-month stay at Camp Robin Hood, Chambersburg, Pa.

Mr. and Mrs. Howard McCullough and son Alan of 3rd St., Chester, left for a motor trip through the South.

GRIN AND BEAR IT — By George Lichty

"Is our workers not only having better old age pensions, comrade capitalists, is also having fringe benefit of aging more quickly!"

The Artichoke

A gourmet's dream turned into a farmer's nightmare recently when artichokes glutted the market in France.

Overproduction made the aristocratic artichoke as inexpensive as the plebian potato. Breton growers were so violently unhappy about the low prices they started France's third "artichoke war" in two years.

The farmers dumped tons of artichokes on a main road, took up positions behind the green barricade and fired the spiky missiles at the gendarmerie. Another band of insurgents briefly occupied the town hall at Morlaix, center of discontent.

The artichoke surplus had provoked similar demonstrations in the summers of 1960 and 1961. The French government now is considering an artichoke subsidy and farmers are studying ways of making the succulent vegetable more popular.

Tax Reform First

By David Lawrence

Sound Economy On Long-Range Basis Needed

Two phrases have appeared conspicuously in the press in recent weeks. One is "tax reduction" and the other is "tax reform." The first is easily understood, widely known, and popular. The second is relatively unknown, misunderstood and could be popular or unpopular depending on how it is applied.

David Lawrence

The purpose of both tax reduction and tax reform nowadays is supposed to be "to get the economy going again" -- to cause money to be spent by consumers and funds to be made available for business expansion and modernization so that costs can be lowered.

Something very positive, however, will have to be done to bring about a change of thinking among the bureaucrats in the Treasury Department who write the technical regulations and submit them to a bewildered Congress, most of whom are uninformed on the meaning of these technical questions. Only a few committee veterans in Congress have studied the subject at all.

FOR YEARS now there has been a glib reply given to those who say that taxes ought to be fair, equitable and stimulating, rather than a barrier to business growth. The comment from the Treasury usually is "You're right, the regulation isn't fair or equitable but the government needs the money."

This is a short-sighted view. For it stifles and strangles the economy and prevents it from growing as soundly as it should. As for revenues, a change in a given regulation might indeed cut down some revenues temporarily, but, in the long run, it can also build them up.

There seems to be a misunderstanding, too, of how people will spend money that they save on taxes and as to what is likely to be done by way of constructive spending for the good of the national economy.

A man of small means who gets a few extra dollars a year from a tax cut might spend it for necessities and it can amount to a great deal for him. But very little is heard of what could happen if the top tax rate were cut, for instance, from 91 per cent down to 45 per cent.

People of means already have the necessities of life. If they have surplus funds due to savings on tax rates, they would be the first to invest that surplus in business expansion. They can hardly find things to buy for themselves, for here indeed is to be found "the man who has everything."

Many such persons just give away all they can. Private philanthropy in America has for a long time been the chief support of human welfare and of achievements in the field of education. Charitable work would be one of the biggest single beneficiaries if citizens of high incomes had their tax rate reduced.

THE PEOPLE with large earnings are the ones who were successful by use either of their energies over the years or their skills or their inventive talents. But these abilities are frequently stunted nowadays by the feeling that there's little use in trying to increase earnings "because the government will take it, anyway."

It's in the field of tax regulation, however, that reforms are most urgently needed. Abuses of deductions for expense accounts ought, of course, to be corrected, and Congress during the current session is giving attention to this very subject.

There are other abuses, too, but, in the main, "tax reform" is needed in those fields where it can do most to stimulate business expansion, increase employment opportunities and promote a sound growth of the national economy. This would bring to the Treasury substantial revenues.

What is desirable is a new approach to the problem and, if possible, a disinterested one. The Treasury is prejudiced because it looks only at the gain or loss in revenues from tax changes and refuses to take a long look ahead, since it is naturally concentrating on this fiscal year or the year immediately following.

THE ADMINISTRATION itself is prejudiced because it sees only the short-range political aspects. It professes to be interested in a balanced budget but it continues to spend money on give-away programs and so-called human welfare measures which keep on producing deficits.

The administration refuses, for example, to approve a direct appropriation for the aged who need medical care, and wants to force an increase in Social Security taxes to pay for this. Such a plan involves a decrease in take-home pay, which only means that labor unions will immediately demand an offsetting increase in wages, thus affecting adversely the whole wage-price spiral.

What is needed today is a selection by the President of a national commission of outstanding citizens already familiar with taxation in theory and in practice who could make a non-political report to congressional committees by next January or February.

The commission's aim should be the formulation of a five or ten-year program with a set of principles on the subject of federal spending, while at the same time leaving to the states certain categories of taxation that can provide them also with revenues over a given period of time.

In the attempt to focus on a single year's figures, the need to build a sound economy on a long-range basis is being overlooked.

U.S. Lives It Up, Up, Up

By James Marlow

WASHINGTON

Americans are living it up, up, up.

The national debt has reached $300 billion for the first time in history, the Treasury announced Monday.

It's been quite a climb. In 1849 the debt was only $63 million.

By the end of the 19th century the debt finally got over the $1 billion mark. It was $1,437,000,000 in 1899.

It has never dropped below the billion-dollar figure since.

Yet, it never got up to the $2 billion mark until 1917—the year America got into World War I—when it became $2,976,000,000, a jump of $1,751,000,000 over 1916.

That was peanuts compared with what was to come. By 1919 the debt had risen to $25,485,000,000, thanks to war costs.

With the war over, the United States tried to whittle down the debt and did so, steadily. From 1920 to 1930 the debt decreased every year until in 1930 it was down to $16,185,000,000.

In every one of those years the government wound up with a surplus but never enough, of course, to pay off the debt at one crack.

All the years mentioned here are fiscal years from one July 1 to the following June 30. So that low mark of $16,185,000,000 in 1930 was for the fiscal year which began July 1, 1929.

It's a memorable date. The great depression began with the market crash in October 1929. In the last fiscal year of President Hoover's administration — 1933—the debt had inched up to $22,539,000,000.

Still, looking back, even that figure seems insignificant because two tremendous changes in the years ahead were to take place in American thinking, and all of them cost money.

One—under President Franklin D. Roosevelt — was the decision that the government had a responsibility for the general welfare. It found its voice in the New Deal. That, and the general effort to get out of the depression, cost money.

The other—and this still lay some years ahead—was the American decision to abandon its isolationism, which had been its viewpoint throughout most of its history, and become an international leader.

This meant getting into World War II and, later, foreign alliances, foreign aid, nuclear weapons and the space race.

And this is what happened:

Under Roosevelt, with 13 million people unemployed and the country desperate, the government really had to go into hock. By the end of the 1941 fiscal year the debt stood at $48,961,000,000.

Even that was nothing compared with what was to come. In December 1941, the Japanese attacked Pearl Harbor and the United States was in its second world war. The roof blew off.

The war ended in August 1945—which was in the 1946 fiscal year—and for that fiscal year the national debt was $269,422,000,000.

Under President Harry S. Truman the public debt went down steadily every year until the country got involved in the Korean War. Up went the debt because of the new need for spending.

Meanwhile, Back At The Ranch

They're speculating in Washington about the reason for that temper explosion by Sen. Symington which blew George M. Humphrey out of the headlines when he was getting to the meat of his testimony in the stockpile investigation.

The best guess is that Sen. Symington, chairman of the subcommittee making the investigation, wanted to stop while he had a chance to get in the last word—so he stopped it with a temper tantrum.

This is backed up by another guess. Sen. Symington wanted to stop because the investigation wasn't turning out the way he and other Democrats hoped it would. The witness was winning all the points and the investigators were floundering.

If things had gone better, Billie Sol Estes would have been forgotten in the excitement of a scandal at the Eisenhower administration's expense. But with things going badly, people were wondering how another crew of Democrats were getting along with the Estes investigation.

That investigation is under the supervision of Sen. John L. McClellan, the old pro from Arkansas. It is being handled so adroitly and is so complex in its nature that Billie Sol Estes almost has disappeared from the news.

It wouldn't have been too hard a trick to obliterate the big cotton-and-tank man from Pecos if George Humphrey hadn't put Sen. Symington on the defensive. As it is, Sen. Symington has withdrawn from investigating until he convalesces from an operation, former President Eisenhower's secretary of the treasury has gone home without a scratch and, back at the ranch in Pecos, Billie Sol Estes is still trying to straighten out his tangled financial affairs.

Washington is chuckling about the whole thing.

Weigh The Issues

The campaign tempo is picking up in Columbiana County as candidates from both parties make their bids for votes in the forthcoming election.

Now is the time for the individual voter to begin his or her evaluation, not on Nov. 6 when the balloting is held.

As the candidates take part in various rallies, make it a point to be on hand when possible. Ask them questions about pertinent issues, then weigh one side against the other. Don't make your choice blindly.

Did They Get The Message

Not being able to see inside the heads of the creeping socializers who tried to filibuster themselves into control of satellite space communications, no one on the private enterprise side of the issue can know how they are taking their licking in the U.S. Senate.

It would be reassuring if the rest of us could believe, though, that they got the message. It was spelled out.

We have no faith in creeping socialism. We think if satellite communications had been a government project Telstar still would be a dog-eared blueprint in some bureaucratic filing cabinet.

We think the United States finally did something first because this project was being pushed hard by people who had a powerful incentive to get the job done and who were permitted to go ahead with it as fast as they could.

We think that the argument of the creeping socialists that the whole thing belonged to the politicians because public money had made possible the painstaking and expensive groundwork behind Telstar is even phonier than a $3 bill. If that argument were true, the airplane industry would belong to the government.

We think the people of the United States have no interest in creeping socialism; that they are contented to keep Uncle Sam in an umpire's suit and not let him get into the game unless it's absolutely necessary.

In somewhat fewer words, the creeping socialists had the electronics kicked out of them in the Senate, where they lost 66-11, and the House, where they lost 354-9. We're happy about the whole thing.

Use The Banks

Every time a breaking and entering occurs it re-emphasizes the need for proprietors of business establishments to take every precaution against the loss of a substantial sum of money.

Banking of each day's receipts is the logical method. With night deposit boxes available, banking has become an around-the-clock operation.

Take advantage of the facilities. Retention of large sums in your own place of business is an open invitation to thieves.

Lest The Weed Take Root

This is the year of the big push for a 35-hour week. It was announced last Spring by leading unionists like Walter Reuther and George Meany, and the issue was officialized by President Kennedy and Labor Secretary Goldberg, who said they didn't think it was a good idea.

This an attempt to mislead people into believing the purpose is to shorten the work week; that is something like going from the 12-hour to the 8-hour day, or the 6-day to the 5-day week. This is supposed to give the 35-hour week a good name—make it a humanitarian measure.

That is not the purpose at all.

The purpose as we see it is to collect premium wages for all hours worked in excess of 35. The Reuther idea in this regard is to collect double time for all hours worked in excess of 40 hours. At present time and a half is the employer's penalty.

This gives an employer a Hobson's choice: He can go broke paying overtime wages, or he can go broke adding fringe benefits for extra employes he doesn't need.

There isn't a labor leader in existence who doesn't know that industry has reached the minimum work week feasible. Even at 40 hours, there must be premium pay to keep production going. Unions now bargain for premium pay as avidly as they bargain for straight pay.

When labor was fighting for an 8-hour day and a 48-hour week, the issue was a working man's right to live for something besides his job.

When it was fighting for a work week shortened to 40 hours, the issue was still whether a working man was entitled to a fuller life.

The issue in a 35-hour week is whether a working man is entitled to time-and-a-half wages for work performed beyond the limits of an unreasonable shortened work week.

It is wage inflation. It should be called by its right name.

Do Not Wait For It

It would be confusion piled on confusion if the railroad industry inadvertently led the public to believe it wants to get rid of featherbedding so it can cut the cost of its service to the public.

In recent years the result of developing more efficiency, which is the other way to describe why railroads want to eliminate featherbedding, rarely has been lower cost to the public.

The automobile industry ,for example, has worked tirelessly to develop more efficiency and with considerable success according to statistics showing the relationship between units produced and employes required to produce them. But the only reduction in price finally came about when the auto industry built smaller cars to compete with imported compacts, following the example of the one U.S. company that had been competing with them on these terms.

If anyone grew curious enough to wonder what happened to the idea that mass production made it possible for more consumers to buy more goods at ever-lower prices, he was ruled out of order. It was explained that efficiency merely made it possible to keep prices from being pushed out of reach by ever-increasing costs of production.

It's an old story. The rialroads now are pointing out that the shipping and traveling public pays unionized rail workers about $600 million a year for work not needed or not performed; i.e., featherbedding.

The implication is that if featherbedding were eliminated the shipping and traveling public would be $600 million ahead. But don't wait for lower rates if featherbedding goes. That's not the way it's done. For the railroads, $600 million merely would make a dent in the deficit.

Purely Personal

As a seasoned yard bird, my advice to householders worrying about burnt-out lawns this August is to be greatful. Next Spring they will be mowing their heads off and wondering what makes the grass grow so fast.

The United Nations is in danger of being like the school teacher who always threatens to do something dire but lacks the wherewithal to command respect and winds up at the mercy of her unruly pupils.

There are things I wish I could avoid doing in extremely warm weather, such as slaving over a hot typewriter. But I shall be eternally grateful for one thing — that I am not a woman wearing a girdle to keep up appearances.

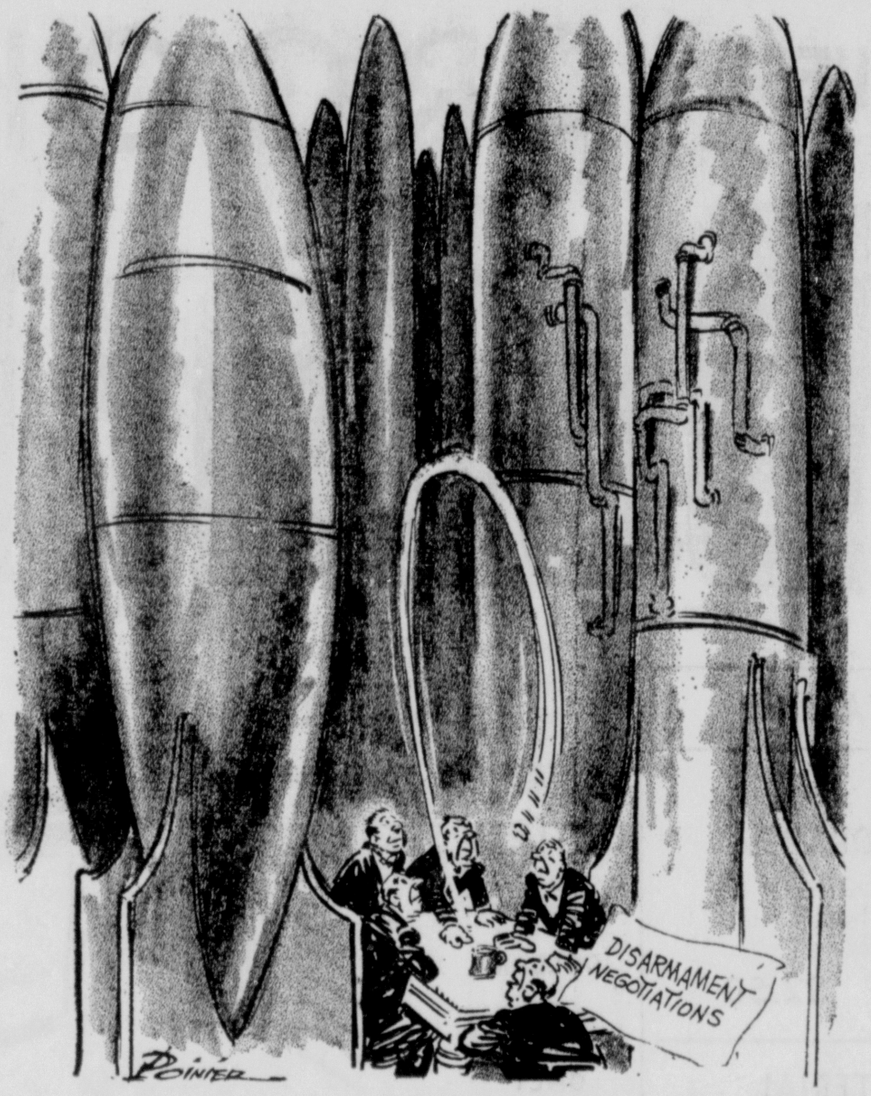
Nothing in politics fascinates me like the way Cleveland Democrats who want to be mayor declare their independence of the Democratic organization, in order to pick up Republican votes and the way Republican voters fall for the tired gag year in and year out.

I think if merchants eager to do business on Sunday would look into the evolution of Sunday closing they would learn it came about because merchants wanted a day off just like their customers. Some people like to go shopping on Sundays, so what? Some would like to shop at 3 a.m. on Tuesday.

It is my view that our highway people should send a bright fellow to Britain to learn how they keep their rights of way mowed and shipshape, also litter-free. I suspect it's because they believe highways should be easy to look at as well as easy to drive on.

I think it would be fun to sleep once more on a bed of springy pine boughs like the one I made once on a camping trip, except this time I'd take along an inner spring mattress.

International Tiddlywinks



U.S.-Thai Teams Give Reds A Battle

By Victor Riesel

BANGKOK

Up in the tangled, almost impassable northeast territory, which is the next target on the global Communist timetable, we're giving the Soviets a run for their secret money — and it's a pleasure to report it.

Victor Riesel

The Sino-Soviet field commanders have chosen to soften up that corner of the free world (and perhaps even take it from within without firing a carbine) because the villagers there have never seen an auto, a foreigner, a movie, an aircraft or electric light and power. Nor have they ever been contacted by a representative of the central Thailand government.

Those villagers, therefore, don't know who their national leader is, or if they have one, or whether he is a king or chieftain or headman.

To that frontier, which may soon make names such as Amphur That Phanom and Amphur Khemma-raj as well known as Laos, Katanga and Leopoldville, the Thari and U. S. governments are dispatching joint mobile "information teams."

To me, the men in those units are heroes. They are working for you and all free peoples. You should know of them — and their hardships.

THEY GO up northeast to counter the Communist cadres — and they get there first and with the most. They soft sell.

They carry with them everything from small pox inoculation medical kits to generators and motion picture equipment and 60 quarts of Mekong whiskey for social gatherings.

Most members of the mobile unit are Thais from this city. With them is an American. These units run from eight to eleven men. At least one man has died on such a venture. For the others, the journeys have not exactly been picnics, except for the ants.

It is fascinating to describe a typical day in this virtually unknown effort to win friends and influence them against the enemies of decency.

Traveling with a mobile information team is much like being part of a road show. Here, however, the players are on stage 18 hours a day.

The arrival of the team — made up of Bangkok officials, a foreigner, three cars, movie equipment and a "show" — is a climactic event in this isolated part of the world.

Every action and gesture of the team members stirs the most intense and friendly curiosity. From the time of arising at 6 a.m. until bedtime at midnight, the audence is on hand. There is an unending lack of privacy. And a chronic lack of sleep.

SOMETIMES the teams have to sleep on the ground without beds or mattresses; sometimes there are cots and sometimes just blankets on the salva wat floor. And the nights are filled with loud temple music. Many nights are brightened throughout by lights from the villagers' strange lanterns.

There can be no complaints. The music and the lights are part of the local customs. And the team is there to prove that the central Thai government and the foreign observer from a far-off land called the United States are friends.

So no one complains, not even about the variety of exotic foods placed before him by villagers who want the team members to share the local delicacies.

One such repast, for example, was made up of the usual glutenous rice, plara (fermented fish), boiled rattan shoots, tree fungus, roasted cicadas (bitter), red ants garnished with ant eggs (sour but very tasty), and young leaves from forest trees. Of course, there were many more conventional foods all the way from eggs to roots.

But these the villagers consider commonplace. If the delicacies were rejected the villager' pride would have been overtly slapped and the mobile unit might as well have stayed in Bangkok.

IN TURN, the team offered the villagers Mekong whiskey. When this ran out there was satoe, a homemade rice beer, and laotoe, a high proof white liquid which tastes very odd, indeed. But it has a happy effect. The team could use the liquor. The weather rises and falls 40 degrees from over 90 to below 50 — in a day.

Despite the rough regimen, the teams do well. They give medical aid. They show motion pictures of railroads and other means of transport which prove to the villagers that there is an outside world which is their own land and nation. They distribute pictures of the King.

Soon there will be radio broadcasts so the headman with a battery receiver can pick up programs from Bangkok instead of the Communist secret transmitter called "The Voice of the People of Thailand."

It's just one small sector on the global front. But we seem to be winning. Maybe here the local folks will turn to us first. Maybe here they will fight back against Communist terror before it seizes more land.

Maybe here local peoples will fight for themselves and men from other lands will not need to fly 10,000 miles to a jungle front.

The Artichoke

A gourmet's dream turned into a farmer's nightmare recently when artichokes glutted the market in France.

Overproduction made the aristocratic artichoke as inexpensive as the plebian potato. Breton growers were so violently unhappy about the low prices they started France's third "artichoke war" in two years.

The farmers dumped tons of artichokes on a main road, took up positions behind the green barricade and fired the spiky missiles at the gendarmerie. Another band of insurgents briefly occupied the town hall at Morlaix, center of discontent.

The artichoke surplus had provoked similar demonstrations in the summers of 1960 and 1961. The French government now is considering an artichoke subsidy and farmers are studying ways of making the succulent vegetable more popular.

Tax Reform First

By David Lawrence

Sound Economy On Long-Range Basis Needed

Two phrases have appeared conspicuously in the press in recent weeks. One is "tax reduction" and the other is "tax reform." The first is easily understood, widely known, and popular. The second is relatively unknown, misunderstood and could be popular or unpopular depending on how it is applied.

David Lawrence

The purpose of both tax reduction and tax reform nowadays is supposed to be "to get the economy going again" -- to cause money to be spent by consumers and funds to be made available for business expansion and modernization so that costs can be lowered.

Something very positive, however, will have to be done to bring about a change of thinking among the bureaucrats in the Treasury Department who write the technical regulations and submit them to a bewildered Congress, most of whom are uninformed on the meaning of these technical questions. Only a few committee veterans in Congress have studied the subject at all.

FOR YEARS now there has been a glib reply given to those who say that taxes ought to be fair, equitable and stimulating, rather than a barrier to business growth. The comment from the Treasury usually is "You're right, the regulation isn't fair or equitable but the government needs the money."

This is a short-sighted view. For it stifles and strangles the economy and prevents it from growing as soundly as it should. As for revenues, a change in a given regulation might indeed cut down some revenues temporarily, but, in the long run, it can also build them up.

There seems to be a misunderstanding, too, of how people will spend money that they save on taxes and as to what is likely to be done by way of constructive spending for the good of the national economy.

A man of small means who gets a few extra dollars a year from a tax cut might spend it for necessities and it can amount to a great deal for him. But very little is heard of what could happen if the top tax rate were cut, for instance, from 91 per cent down to 45 per cent.

People of means already have the necessities of life. If they have surplus funds due to savings on tax rates, they would be the first to invest that surplus in business expansion. They can hardly find things to buy for themselves, for here indeed is to be found "the man who has everything."

Many such persons just give away all they can. Private philanthropy in America has for a long time been the chief support of human welfare and of achievements in the field of education. Charitable work would be one of the biggest single beneficiaries if citizens of high incomes had their tax rate reduced.

THE PEOPLE with large earnings are the ones who were successful by use either of their energies over the years or their skills or their inventive talents. But these abilities are frequently stunted nowadays by the feeling that there's little use in trying to increase earnings "because the government will take it, anyway."

It's in the field of tax regulation, however, that reforms are most urgently needed. Abuses of deductions for expense accounts ought, of course, to be corrected, and Congress during the current session is giving attention to this very subject.

There are other abuses, too, but, in the main, "tax reform" is needed in those fields where it can do most to stimulate business expansion, increase employment opportunities and promote a sound growth of the national economy. This would bring to the Treasury substantial revenues.

Airman Qualification Tests Set Thursday

T.Sgt. James A. Lee, area Air Force recruiter, said the airman qualification examination will be given to interested men and women at the City Hall Thursday at 9:30 a. m.

These aptitude tests are given to predict the probability of success in the administrative, general, mechanical and electronics career fields.

Taking aptitude test does not carry an obligation of any type, but those with passing scores will be tentatively qualified for enlistment in the Air Force in the career field of their choice, he said.

Interested men or women may call FU. 6-6181, visit Sgt. Lee at his office in the City Hall, or report to the City Hall for testing at 9:30.

Guest Of Rotarians

Ohio Supreme Court Role Discussed By Judge Taft

In a visit to Columbiana County, birthplace of his grandfather, veteran Judge Kingsley Arter Taft discussed the selection and tenure of Ohio Supreme Court members in an address at the Rotary Club Tuesday afternoon. He is a member of the Arter family of Hanoverton.

The Republican nominee for chief justice of the high tribunal in the Nov. 6 election, Judge Taft, 59, also visited the County Fair in Lisbon after speaking to a large gathering at the club's noon luncheon meeting in the Travelers Hotel.

A resident of Bexley, Columbus suburb, he is serving his 14th year as a member of the Supreme Court, which consists of six judges and a chief justice. The judges are elected for terms of not less than six years and seek office as non-partisan candidates in the general election.

Judge Taft pointed out 16 states, including Ohio, still elect members of the state Supreme Court on the non-partisan ballot, while 18 states elect candidates who are partisan on the fall ballot, and 11 states use the appointive system.

Ohio reverted to the election of judges in 1851, scrapping the former appointive system, Judge Taft said, adding the change was adopted because "the appointees made were regarded as too political, and the appointees became servants of the legislature."

After changing to the elective system, Ohio first elected its supreme court judges on a partisan ballot, or column ballot, resulting in the defeat of party candidates in the event of landslide returns.

But in 1912, Ohio reverted to the non-partisan system of electing judges, following a 3-2 vote by the State Supreme Court on the constitutionality of the change. Judge Taft explained there were some objections, one that the voter had to be able to read under the new system, instead of merely filling out the ballot under the particular column marked at the top by a party emblem, an "eagle" or "rooster" as under the old plan.

This led to efforts to revert to one system of electing judges, combining features of both the elective and appointive systems, Judge Taft continued.

The new system was tried in Ohio with a committee of three, appointed by the governor from names nominated by the legislature, to select judges for terms of six years.

After serving six years, the judge would be allowed to have his name listed on the ballot and could continue serving by polling a majority vote against his opponent in the election. The commission would name another new judge should the former Supreme Court member not attain a majority. "This is called the modified appointive system," the veteran jurist continued.

"There is argument that the electorate has some control of the system, but this is somewhat questionable," Judge Taft said. "For a 12-year period in Missouri, only one judge in 106 was not kept in office," he added.

Judge Taft suggested that a majority vote of 60 or 65 per cent should be needed to determine the winner of the post under the modified appointive system, instead of a simple majority. "In Missouri, it appears appointments are for life," he added.

Tenure of judges in Ohio is six years, with no provision regarding ages of candidates. But the Ohio State Bar Association recommended that no one 70 years old should be eligible to be elected or appointed to a judicial office, although it also said that "no age is satisfactory for retirement."

Twenty-one states have provision for compulsory retirement, usually at 70, but retirement should not be required unless provisions are made for retirement, Judge Taft asserted.

He added that there is no judicial retirement program in Ohio.

He declared some lawyers hesitate to abandon their law practice to seek election to the state Supreme Court because of its meager retirement fund. Lawyers in the age group above 40 in particular may hesitate to seek election to the high tribunal because retirement allowances are based on length of service in state employment, he said.

In concluding, Judge Taft suggested that the so-called "Missouri" plan of electing judges is better than the method now in use in Ohio, although if adopted, the law should be modified to require more than a majority vote for the judge to remain in office.

He also suggested "It may be deserving for the state to have a compulsory retirement at some age, and if we do have compulsory retirement, to modify the state retirement system to enable those who become judges at ages 40-45 to have a retirement program."

Judge Taft was introduced by William D. Christopher, program chairman. William B. Cooper, past president, presided. A number of area attorneys were guests.

Canton Man Remains Critical After Crash

A Canton man remains in "critical" condition today at City Hospital with injuries suffered in a three-car crash Saturday night on Route 30 near the summit of Chester Hill.

Robert Lee Barker, 22, who was a passenger in a car driven by his brother, Jimmy Barker, 26, also of Canton, suffered severe facial lacerations and a great loss of blood.

His brother remains in "fair" condition while Harry Quinn, 11, of Midland Heights, Midland, another passenger, was in "fairly good" condition.

Convict Admits $100.000 Loot In Crime Wave

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Ohio Penitentiary convict Edward H. Wheeler, according to Columbus police, says he robbed about 2,000 apartments and got $100,000 worth of loot in an 18 - month, cross-country one - man crime wave.

Wheeler, 37, began a new prison term two weeks ago. He was sentenced from Fairfield County for breaking out of the county jail at Lancaster, larceny and breaking and entering.

A sometime Columbus resident, he has admitted 35 or 40 burglaries in the capital city alone, officers say.

Wheeler was captured in Chattanooga, Tenn., five days after his Lancaster escape. He has a police record dating back to 1940. When he gets out of prison here he has detainers awaiting him at Cleveland; Baton Rouge, La.; Memphis, Tenn., and Mobile, Ala.

Ohio Supreme Court Role Discussed By Judge Taft

In a visit to Columbiana County, birthplace of his grandfather, veteran Judge Kingsley Arter Taft discussed the selection and tenure of Ohio Supreme Court members in an address at the Rotary Club Tuesday afternoon. He is a member of the Arter family of Hanoverton.

The Republican nominee for chief justice of the high tribunal in the Nov. 6 election, Judge Taft, 59, also visited the County Fair in Lisbon after speaking to a large gathering at the club's noon luncheon meeting in the Travelers Hotel.

A resident of Bexley, Columbus suburb, he is serving his 14th year as a member of the Supreme Court, which consists of six judges and a chief justice. The judges are elected for terms of not less than six years and seek office as non-partisan candidates in the general election.

Judge Taft pointed out 16 states, including Ohio, still elect members of the state Supreme Court on the non-partisan ballot, while 18 states elect candidates who are partisan on the fall ballot, and 11 states use the appointive system.

Ohio reverted to the election of judges in 1851, scrapping the former appointive system, Judge Taft said, adding the change was adopted because "the appointees made were regarded as too political, and the appointees became servants of the legislature."

After changing to the elective system, Ohio first elected its supreme court judges on a partisan ballot, or column ballot, resulting in the defeat of party candidates in the event of landslide returns.

But in 1912, Ohio reverted to the non-partisan system of electing judges, following a 3-2 vote by the State Supreme Court on the constitutionality of the change. Judge Taft explained there were some objections, one that the voter had to be able to read under the new system, instead of merely filling out the ballot under the particular column marked at the top by a party emblem, an "eagle" or "rooster" as under the old plan.

This led to efforts to revert to one system of electing judges, combining features of both the elective and appointive systems, Judge Taft continued.

The new system was tried in Ohio with a committee of three, appointed by the governor from names nominated by the legislature, to select judges for terms of six years.

After serving six years, the judge would be allowed to have his name listed on the ballot and could continue serving by polling a majority vote against his opponent in the election. The commission would name another new judge should the former Supreme Court member not attain a majority. "This is called the modified appointive system," the veteran jurist continued.

"There is argument that the electorate has some control of the system, but this is somewhat questionable," Judge Taft said. "For a 12-year period in Missouri, only one judge in 106 was not kept in office," he added.

Judge Taft suggested that a majority vote of 60 or 65 per cent should be needed to determine the winner of the post under the modified appointive system, instead of a simple majority. "In Missouri, it appears appointments are for life," he added.

Tenure of judges in Ohio is six years, with no provision regarding ages of candidates. But the Ohio State Bar Association recommended that no one 70 years old should be eligible to be elected or appointed to a judicial office, although it also said that "no age is satisfactory for retirement."

Twenty-one states have provision for compulsory retirement, usually at 70, but retirement should not be required unless provisions are made for retirement, Judge Taft asserted.

He added that there is no judicial retirement program in Ohio.

He declared some lawyers hesitate to abandon their law practice to seek election to the state Supreme Court because of its meager retirement fund. Lawyers in the age group above 40 in particular may hesitate to seek election to the high tribunal because retirement allowances are based on length of service in state employment, he said.

In concluding, Judge Taft suggested that the so-called "Missouri" plan of electing judges is better than the method now in use in Ohio, although if adopted, the law should be modified to require more than a majority vote for the judge to remain in office.

He also suggested "It may be deserving for the state to have a compulsory retirement at some age, and if we do have compulsory retirement, to modify the state retirement system to enable those who become judges at ages 40-45 to have a retirement program."

Judge Taft was introduced by William D. Christopher, program chairman. William B. Cooper, past president, presided. A number of area attorneys were guests.

Canton Man Remains Critical After Crash

A Canton man remains in "critical" condition today at City Hospital with injuries suffered in a three-car crash Saturday night on Route 30 near the summit of Chester Hill.

Robert Lee Barker, 22, who was a passenger in a car driven by his brother, Jimmy Barker, 26, also of Canton, suffered severe facial lacerations and a great loss of blood.

His brother remains in "fair" condition while Harry Quinn, 11, of Midland Heights, Midland, another passenger, was in "fairly good" condition.

Betting On Capitol Hill

Pet Measures May Fall Victim To Adjournment

WASHINGTON (AP) — Democratic leaders apparently are going to have to choose between abandoning some major elements of President Kennedy's program or keeping Congress in session until October.

The betting on Capitol Hill is that several of the administration's pet measures are going to fall victim of the adjournment fever building up among candidates anxious to campaign in an election in which 39 Senate and all House seats will be filled.

Some of these candidates already are calling for action on a minimum of necessary legislation and an early quitting date. Almost nobody thinks there will be a post-election session.

Majority Leader Mike Mansfield of Montana has laid down a program for Senate consideration of six bills. All concerned agreed the measures will keep the Senate busy until Sept. 15.

The six bills included a compromise farm measure which was expected to win Senate approval today. Behind this Mansfield listed measures dealing with drug controls, expanded compensation for disabled veterans, Philippine war damage claims, tax revision and international trade.

He decided to take up the controversial tax revision bill when it became apparent that the Finance Committee won't complete action on the trade measure until early September.

In the tax bill an administration provision for a 7 per cent credit on business plant investment is under heavy fire. There will be the usual futile efforts made to reduce the 27½ per cent oil depletion allowance. Some senator may come up with an amendment for the immediate tax reduction Kennedy decided not to request.

The trade bill is certain to attract a mountain of amendments and produce a hurricane of talk.

Magazine Article Buries Ex-Sen. Nye Prematurely

WASHINGTON (AP)—Gerald P. Nye, one-time senator from North Dakota, arose from the grave in which a magazine article prematurely buried him and gave notice today that:

1. He is alive and kicking.

2. He knows where a certain body is buried, or rather where a truly-dead ex-senator's ashes were strewn in the long ago. In fact, Nye strewed them himself, under a tree on the Capitol grounds.

What brought Nye back from "the Great Beyond," was an article in the September issue of Pageant magazine entitled: "The Only Man Buried on Capitol Hill."

It's a heart-tugging tale about Henry Clay Hansbrough, a publisher-politician who helped "tame the West, a pen in one hand and a sixgun in the other." When North Dakota entered the Union, he became its first representative in Congress and from 1891 to 1909 was U.S. senator.

Although still tall and handsome and although his handle-bar mustache still glistened, the aged Hansbrough felt a premonition of the end in 1933. Visiting the office of his friend, Sen. Nye, he said he loved Washington and wanted to remain on Capitol Hill forever.

Pointing out a window, he said: "When I die I want you to bury my ashes under that elm tree."

Now Nye knew it was against the rules to bury anybody on the Capitol grounds. But for old friendship's sake he consented.

A short time later the old man died, and a box bearing his ashes arrived at Nye's office. According to the magazine article, Nye gathered a few friends and colleagues, proceeded to the tree and buried the box with a simple whispered prayer.

Versions of the incident leaked out, writes the author of the article, Edward Hymoff, but:

"Sen. Nye himself carried the secret to the grave with him. Today, no one—barring possible survivors of the burial ceremony—even knows which elm tree the senator is buried under."

Nye, who is now 69 and a Federal Housing Administration specialist on housing for the elderly, got off a 1,500-word letter Tuesday to Howard Cohn, executive editor of Pageant. It wasn't as rough a letter as Nye might have written back in the days when he was a fire-eating isolationist whose Senate career (1925-1944) stirred many a controversy.

In fact it was a mellow epistle datelined "Over here in the Great Beyond." Death must have been painless, he said, for he never noticed it. It could have been caused by those three wasps that stung him a while back in his garden.

But he wanted to set the record straight; he did not bury the box with Sen. Hansbrough's ashes; with his own hand he strewed them out of the box — "a plain everyday shoebox."

For years thereafter, he wrote, "the ground covered by the scattering produced the greenest grass on Capitol Hill and, at the time of my last observation, before coming Over Here, the tree, feeding upon the ashes of Henry Clay Hansbrough, was the healthiest looking of all the neighboring trees."

In conclusion, Nye gave Pageant a description of life "Over Here." It is much like life on earth, he said — gardening, churchgoing, work.

"I even draw pay for my services as though it were not known that I had departed life," he said.

Many things are much the same as on earth, he said — including bills to pay and "taxes, taxes, taxes."

Editor Cohn told a newsman he was deeply embarrassed. "I'm glad to hear Sen. Nye is alive," he said, "and if he's kicking it's with good reason."

Author Hymoff said he thought he had checked his article thoroughly but guessed he had checked some of it "in the wrong places."

U.S. Astronaut Lost Six Pounds During Flight

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP)—Confident smiles to the contrary, it costs in terms of stress and wear and tear to make the kind of orbital adventures U.S. and Soviet astronauts are making.

There are tell-tale signs of stress but few of them are advertised or talked about openly.

U.S. space experts have detailed information about the medical performance of their astronauts. Little is known of the physiological reaction of Soviet astronauts to the rigors of space flight.

One critical sign of stress can be associated with weight loss, more specifically loss of large amounts of water.

Indications of this came from Tuesday's conference reviewing the technical details of Malcolm Scott Carpenter's flight May 24. It was the second orbital flight in a U.S. spacecraft.

Carpenter, a 154-pounder at flight time, dropped six pounds by the time he weighed in aboard the recovery ships 15 hours later.

Most people lose some weight in the course of a strenuous day. But there are indications water loss can be caused by hormonal activity—more specifically activity of adrenal gland hormones, believed to be indicators of stress.

233 Buffalo, 137 Longhorn Cattle Part Of Big Game Sale

WASHINGTON (AP)—If you're hunting for a gift guaranteed to thrill even the most jaded young Indian—

Or perhaps just a conversation piece to enliven draggy patio parties—

The government has them—233 buffalo and 137 longhorn cattle.

They're part of the Interior Department's annual big game sale.

The animals graze at national wildlife refuges. Each year the growing herds have to be cut down to keep them from taxing the capacity of the ranges.

For $180 you can have a live buffalo to call your own. The longhorns will go to the highest bidders.

The government also has a deal for those who prefer their big game packaged, frozen and ready for the freezer.

Butchered buffalo will go for $220 to $270 per carcass—depending on the process used. Quarters and halves are available, too.

Also for sale are 75 elk — but only after they have been butchered—at $110 to $145. Minimum quantity: a half carcass.

The orders for buffalo should be sent to any of three refuges — Wichita Mountains Wildlife Refuge, Cache, Okla.; Fort Niobrara National Wildlife Refuge, Valentine, Neb.; and the National Bison Range, Moiese, Mont.

Elk carcass sales will be only from the Wichita Mountains Refuge.

The longhorn cattle will be sold at public auctions Sept. 20 at the Wichita Mountains Refuge and Oct. 9 at Fort Niobrara.

If the number of orders received by Sept. 30 exceeds the number of animals, a drawing will be held Oct. 1 to select successful applicants.

The official price list and conditions of sale can be obtained from the Fish and Wildlife Service, Department of the Interior, Washington, 25, D.C.

ANOTHER SUNNY day greeted early fairgoers this morning.

Fair Board members said the number of livestock entries is the largest in the fair's history. Every available stall and pen is being used and more are being built to accommodate the overflow in the pony show.

Each year, entries in the pony show have been increasing and additional barns have been built but more space still is needed. There are 246 entries in plus 30 ponies and 25 horses in the 4-H Class.

In the cattle department, there are 229 head entered in the open class with 80 additional head in the 4-H Class. Also in the 4-H cattle barn are 60 head of steers to be judged this morning and auctioned tonight at 8 in the coliseum.

MANY FAIRS have discontinued draft horse classes but not Columbiana. Charles Sheen, a long - time exhibitor at the fair, has four head of registered Belgians.

The largest poultry show for many years — with pens in the aisles with over 400 chickens — was judged Tuesday afternoon but it was not completed at 8:30 and judges said they will check their records again this morning.

The sheep and swine shows are about average with 145 head of sheep and 100 head of swine entered in the open class.

Excellent harness racing programs can be expected with 50 head stabled Tuesday morning and more coming in..

Owners of 61 2-and 3-year-old colts paid entry fees for the colt stakes which closed April 30. Each one of these four colt stakes will be raced for over $1,300 in prize money. Kiwanis Names Committees For Wellsville Sale

Committees for an auction sale next month were named by Richard Grills, president, at a meeting of the Wellsville Kiwanis Club Tuesday noon at the Hotel Wilk.

The auction will be Saturday, Sept. 15, in the old United Presbyterian Church Building on Main St.

The committees, with the chairmen listed first, are Atty. Delmar T. O'Hara, William J. Shoub, Tom Piatt, Stu Wilson, Lester Bickle, Paul Nightingale and George Wilson, advertising; Richard Jones, Myron Weis, Charles Wilfing, Grills, Pete Mase, Carl Nicholaus, George Lawton, and Robert Lowther, pickup; Atty. William Bush, Cedric Stanway, Kenneth Bell, the Rev. William Hewitt, Tom Grafton and Robert Andrews, telephone.

Trucks for collecting the donated merchandise will be provided by Weis and Jones. Wilson will serve as auctioneer while Shoub will be cashier and Grills, assistant cashier.

Anyone with articles to donate may contact Grills at LE. 2-1511.

Fifteen attended. County Prosecutor G. William Brokaw was guest speaker. He discussed the duties of his office and explained the method of securing jurors for court trials.

ing with the utility and should leave the matter to the Public Utilities Commission of Ohio.

Cox said the firm prefers dealing on the local level, pointing out it gives the community a voice in what the rates will be.

DeLonzo said the contract is for four years and this would mean the city would not be faced with an increase every two years, as has been the case in the past.

Miller and Taggart said they feel the utility would get more money by going to the PUCO.

Negotiations have been under way since June 1961. Cox said at the last meeting the proposal is the "rock bottom" rate to be offered.

In other business, Taggart said he could find nothing in correspondence assuring the city the federal government will lease a Post Office from the city if a building is constructed. After a discussion, Council directed a letter be sent Rep. Wayne L. Hays, asking him to obtain such an assurance.

A $250,000 bond issue will appear on the November ballot to construct a new City Hall. A part of the building will be rented to the postal department. City officials said it will not be constructed unless a lease is signed.

Mrs. Rahter said she met the past week with a postal department official who told her the government will sign a contract now, before the vote, if a proposal is submitted.

The vote on sending Hays the letter was 3-3, with Mrs. Rahter breaking the tie. Councilmen Taggart, Mrs. Drago and Miller voted yes and Councilmen Stroble, DeLonzo and Baldwin voted no.

Miller gave the opening prayer. Councilman Dwight MacLean was absent because of illness.

Mrs. Margaret Baldwin, clerk, read a list of positions available with state agencies. The jobs, listed by the Department of State Personnel, include practical nurse, cosmetologist, barber, stationary firemen, architects, boiler inspectors, high-pressure piping inspectors, elevator inspectors, steam engineer examiner, attorneys, correction officers and cottage leaders for juvenile correction work.

Further information may be obtained from the state agency at Columbus or the Ohio Employment Service office. The deadline for application is Sept. 14. Council ordered the notices posted at City Hall.

Rail Company Asks Right To Lease Firm

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Norfolk & Western Railway has asked the Interstate Commerce Commission for authority to lease the Pittsburgh & West Virginia Railway, a 132-mile line between Pittsburgh Junction, Harrison County, Ohio, and Connellsville, Pa.

and this could be avoided with a referendum vote.

Howard Lucas opposed the idea strongly from the audience. He and Miller exchanged heated words about the operation of the city. Lucas proposed cutting down on the number of city employes.

Councilman William Stroble suggested waiting until the parking meters are paid off in September of 1963 and then diverting part of the meter funds into the general fund.

Mrs. Mary Rahter, Council president, said she is against drawing from the meter fund unless compelled to do so.

Money from the meters now goes for street improvements and the maintenance of the meters.

Legislation was given first reading to change the meter ordinance so that it includes street lighting expenses. Councilmen Robert Taggart and Miller opposed the measure. It was first presented for adoption under suspension of rules but lacked a majority.

Another piece of legislation directing that $5 a month be taken from the meter fund to increase the candlepower of a street light was delayed until the meter ordinance change is adopted.

Miller at the last meeting cited the draining of funds from the parking meter monies as one of the reasons for a wage tax.

Others also raised objections from the audience. One man suggested the city purchase scales for checking overloaded trucks.

Councilman Frank DeLonzo said he is obtaining costs on scales. He suggested civic organizations aid in purhasing the scales if the city doesn't have the money.

It was pointed out pensioners would not have to pay a tax on their pensions.

In other business, legislation was adopted authorizing Safety-Service Director Fred Baldasare to advertise for bids for cleaning and painting the water standpipes on Highland Ave. Ext. Baldasare explained he plans to open the city's right-of-way to the standpipes. Getting to the area has been a problem in the past.

On a suggestion from Stroble, street and light chairman, Council directed a letter be sent William McKenna, Division 11 deputy highway director at New Philadelphia, requesting repaving of Clark Ave.—Route 7—be included in next year's highway programming.

Baldasare said he will have a paving firm test a sealing on the bricks on Clark Ave. to tighten them. Council had voted at its last meeting to have the test made. Baldasare said he had informed Council three months ago of such plans.

Stroble said the street committee will check traffic situations at 3rd and Lisbon Sts. and on Broadway between 4th and 5th Sts.

Miller publicly apologized to Stroble for having said at the last meeting that he failed to attend finance meetings. Miller said Stroble missed only one that he knows of.

Legislation was order authorizing Baldasare to advertise for bids for construction of a city garage on city - owned land along 1st St.

It was estimated it will cost $7,500. The proposal was presented a good while ago by DeLonzo, but action was delayed until costs could be learned so a bond issue can be floated.

The city pays $1,300 a year rental fees to house its vehicles. DeLonzo said this can be used to pay for a garage. No specifications were offered last night. DeLonzo said the money saved after the garage is paid for could be returned to the general fund. Baldasare said only $7 monthly paid for housing the cruiser comes from the general fund, with the remainder coming from the departments whose vehicles are cared for.

Lisbon Firm, Union Disagree On Offers

LISBON — An offer from management and a counter - propsition from a striking union marked negotiations yesterday in an attempt to end a 52-day-old strike at the Thomas Works of the H. K. Porter Co., Inc., but the meeting ended without any real progress toward settlement.

Management offered an 8-cent raise spread over a two-year contract — 4 cents the first year and 4 cents the second year. But the union asked that the raise he made retroactive to July 1, the date its old agreement expired. Management insisted on a full-two year contract from the date of the settlement.

The two sides met with Federal Mediator Harold Roach of Akron. No meeting was set. The union met later to discuss the negotiations. The plant's 140 employes are members of the United Brick and Clay Workers of America.

MISS Gretchen Frew, 14, of Lisbon, pupil at Lincoln School, and Miss Stephanie Thomas, 13, of Salem R. D. 2, student at United Local, tied for second - place awards of $10 each.

Judges were Paul Young, George Nace, and William Haifley.

Felix Butch, member of the Board of Health, introduced Judge Kingsley A. Taft, nominee for chief justice of the Ohio Supreme Court, who presented the awards.

Peter Marro, principal of United Local, accepted the trophy on behalf of the school.

The contest, among eighth graders in the county schools, was on the title of "The Health Department."

MISS Miller's prize winning essay follows:

"Many people take public health for granted. We turn a tap in the kitchen, and pure water flows out of a faucet. We pour dish water into the sink, and it gurgles out of sight and usually out of mind.

"We also take for granted a small army of doctors and nurses working together so that we, the people, may benefit from their help until we desperately need their services. Even then few of us take time to wonder, 'Who did all of this for me?'

"Public health has been defined as 'the art and science of preventing disease, prolonging life, and promoting physical and mental efficiency through organized community effort.' The Health Department is the basic service unit in the administration of public health.

"The establishment of the first county health department occurred in 1911 when an epidemic of typhoid fever broke out in Yakima County, Wash. Dr. L. L. Lumsden was put in charge to study the epidemic. He suggested to the county authorities that to prevent such a disaster from occurring again they should establish a county health department which is supported by county funds with a full-time physician in charge. And thus the first county health unit in the United States was established.

DURING PRESENTATION. Principals in the trophy presentation for the health essay contest Tuesday at the County Fair are, left to right, Gretchen Frew, of Lisbon, Peter Marre, Judge Kingsley A. Taft, Stephanie Thomas and Betty Miller. Miss Miller won first place and Marro, principal, accepted permanent possession of the trophy for United Local School. Miss Thomas and Miss Frew tied for second.

THE TASKS of the health department and the people who work together to accomplish them are many. To describe all of them in full would be an endless job.

"Among the innumerable duties is the recording of vital statistics. These statistics include the recording of births, deaths, marriages, divorces and communicable diseases.

"A public which is informed and educated is one of the best guarantees of effective health service. This is also one of the health department's responsibilities — to keep the public informed by lectures, newspapers, television, radio, etc., for without an educated public the cause of the health department is lost.

"The control of communicable diseases is a very important part of the health department. Immunizations are also administered by the health unit. The Sabin oral polio immunization, which was just recently administered by the Columbiana County Medical Society, was associated with the County Health Department.

"IN ADDITION to the duties of the health department, professional workers must be employed to fulfill these duties. They include the public health nurse, health officer, sanitary inspector and clerk.

Lemual Shattock once said, 'No subject is more intimately connected with the happiness and prosperity of a people than the degree of public health that they enjoy.' Due to the health department, the degree of public health has been greatly enjoyed and appreciated."

Out Of The Air

By ALAN GILL

The Other End Of The Table

HOLLYWOOD, Calif.

There were a lot of people at the table. Dale Evans was sitting at this end, and Roy Rogers up at the other. They have a new Saturday night show coming up on ABC, starting Sept. 29, and "The Roy Rogers - Dale Evans Variety Hour" was all the talk at lunch.

Alan Gill

They were shooting a show on Oliveria in the Mexican section of Los Angeles, said Miss Evans. Outside of a mission church, they had their finale — an English version of "Ave Maria" she wrote three years ago.

Their first show was filmed at the Seattle Fair. Trigger does the twist. Cliff Arquette is on regularly as "Charley Weaver," but he's nice, very nice, very modified. No blue stuff.

So many marriages break up out here, and she thought it's because of a lack of religion. Roy and she both have a strong sense of religion.

-:-

AT THE OTHER END of the table, Rogers was telling a story of his Republic Studio days.

"I was making $75 a week and I said to Mr. Yates —"

Religious music, Miss Evans was saying, is high on her list of favorites — that and ballads. Not rock 'n' roll, which is a broken record not getting anywhere, it's just go and go and go. But inspirational songs are —

"And Mr. Yates, he said to me —"

Miss Evans said her boy, Dusty, was coming around to liking "Stranger on the Shore." Roy Jr., she said, is 16, and he is geared more to Douglas Fairbanks Jr. roles rather than cowboy parts, though they were sure not pushing it.

-:-

IT'S TOUGH to be like your daddy. She'd rather see him a doctor than a "second daddy." It's a saner life.

"Ha, ha, ha!" whooped the people at the other end of the table.

Then there's John David, 15; Mary, 10 (she's called Little Doe); Debra Lee, 10; four older married children, and nine grandchildren.

Sherrill, the oldest, might have gone into show business, but she wanted to be married. She married Tom Fox, a choirmaster and public school music teacher in Pasadena.

Marian, their Scottish girl, has a good singing voice, like Ella Logan's, but she married a Marine. Linda Lou is married, too.

-:-

"TRIGGER," Rogers' voice could be heard uttering at the other end of the table, "the first Trigger, is 29 now, fat as he can be. A real iron horse. He —"

Miss Evans was saying that she and Roy are the busiest they've been for seven years. They filmed 102 TV Westerns back then, which still are being shown.

Roy is a hunter. She used to go coon hunting with him with a flashlight, but doesn't any more. Once, on a bear hunt up at Stockton, they got lost for six hours in a snowstorm.

She likes to fool with leftovers. They have a 136-acre place up in Chatsworth. Miss Evans likes the song, "Le Mer."

-:-

"MY OLD UNCLE," we heard Rogers saying, "is 83, and he lives on a houseboat at Portsmouth, Ohio. I lived on that thing when I was a kid. And some day I'm going to take that houseboat and —"

Roy Rogers Enterprises, said Miss Evans, grosses more than $30 million annually. They've hooked up with the National Football League and they put out the Pass, Punt and Kick Football Attire. They also distribute the Charlie Weaver doll.

"You know I'm 51, pushing 52?" Rogers was asking.

Roy, Dale said, thinks in country terms. He's blunt and incisive in business and has a lot of straight country thinking to offer. That is, when he's not thinking about trap-shooting.

Miss Evans has received many wonderful religious letters as the result of her inspirational books.

"It's time to go, honey," she told Roy. And they went.

Retail Union Sets Fight On Closing Plan

CLEVELAND (AP) — Cecil B. Dunlap, president of AFL-CIO Retail Store Employes Local 880, predicts labor unions throughout the state will wage a campaign to defeat the Lawson Milk Co.'s proposed amendment to the Ohio Sunday closing law.

He threw the support of his 9,000-member union Tuesday behind the Cleveland Retail Merchants Board in its fight to kill the Lawson amendment.

William Howlett, president of Lawson's, said, "The people will act for themselves at the pools."

"They will vote on the basis of their requirements," he added. "The amendment only attempts to define what is unanimously recognized as normal food and service requirements."

John P. Murphy, chairman of the Retail Merchants Board, said the board was behind the Voters Information Committee which is now preparing to launch a statewide drive against the proposed amendment.

"We believe the great majority of the people in this area and Ohio do not want Sunday business," Murphy said. "If the Lawson amendment would pass, and I'm sure it won't, it would open the door for all kinds of business on Sunday."

OSU Professor, Object Of Storm Center, Killed

COALVILLE, Utah (AP) — An automobile accident has ended the life of Shepard Liverant, 34, Ohio State University associate professor of psychology who was a campus storm center last spring.

Liverant's wife, Marianne, 36, who was driving; their two children and a passenger escaped serious injury in the smashup on U.S. 189 near here Tuesday.

Liverant was faculty adviser last spring to an Ohio State campus group, Students for Liberal Action (SLA), when a dispute erupted between the university chapter of the American Association of University Professors and the administration.

The controversy arose after Liverant independently approved a campus appearance, at an SLA meeting, of a team of speakers opposing the House Committee on Un - American Activities. University President Novice G. Fawcett then canceled the appearance the day it was to have been made.

Scientists Cite Progress With Conversion Of Heat

By The Associated Press

Scientists cite progress in conversion of heat and wheat, and they work on a nuclear reactor monitor for use in space:

Scientists say the thermionic generator, which converts heat directly into electricity, will become increasingly important on earth as well as in space.

Its fuel can be the intense heat inside a nuclear reactor or focused rays of the sun.

Dr. Robert W. Pidd of General Atomics Division, General Dynamics Corp., predicts the first important use of the generators will come from teaming thermionic cells with nuclear-powered plants generating electricity. They will produce current from temperatures ranging from 3,000 to 6,000 degrees Fahrenheit and boost plant efficiency by as much as one-third.

Later, nuclear-powered thermionic units may provide electricity for space vehicles and ocean vessels.

Thermonionic converters work much like the familiar radio tube. Electrons boil off a heated element in a vacuum or in ionized vapor, are caught by a colder element and emerge as electric current.

A drawback with experimental ones has been a discouragingly short life, often less than 100 hours. But scientists and engineers at an energy conversion conference in San Francisco last week heard reports of three still going strong after 4,339 hours, 3,254 hours and 3,668 hours, respectively.

Wheat chips, wheat toffee and a chicken pilaf made with wheat instead of rice have been whipped up by food scientists at Stanford Research Institute.

They are seeking ways to boost consumption of wheat.

The average American, with 10 per cent more food available than he had 50 years ago, eats 250 calories less per day. He makes more money and buys more meat, fresh produce, luxury and convenience foods, less of the staples like wheat products and beans.

Institute scientists say they've developed a chemical treatment for wheat that makes it a practical substitute for rice in various dishes.

In the chicken pilaf it tasted remarkably like wild rice, they found. Wild rice is much more expensive.

The wheat chips and toffee have also won tasters' enthusiastic approval and more new foods from wheat are on the way.

The researchers say their wheat treatment process is simple and cheap. But they are not prepared to disclose it yet.

When the United States rockets its first nuclear reactor into outer space, close tabs will be kept on the reactor operation. A monitoring system is being designed and built at a General Electric plant in San Jose, Calif.

Readings on radiation from the reactor—now being developed to provide 500 watts of electric power for satellite instrumentation—will be transmitted to ground stations. The information will be used for further development of nuclear power systems for space.

Neutron and gamma ray detectors and other components of the monitoring system are designed to operate in temperatures up to 1,000 degrees Fahrenheit.

Actress Rita Hayworth, 42, is hospitalized in New York City, interrupting rehearsals for the play "Step on a Crack," scheduled to open on Broadway Oct. 17.

Her agent described the ailment as "complete nervous exhaustion." But a statement from the hospital said she was "slightly anemic" and would remain there several days for a checkup.

Rogers And City Autos Damaged In Collision

Two autos were damaged Tuesday at 10:10 p.m. in a collision on Dewey Ave. at Pennsylvania Ave., police reported.

The mishap involved a 1953 station wagon operated by Ralph W. Wooley, 55, of Rogers R. D. 1 and a 1961 four-door sedan driven by William H. Barnes, 68, of 812 St. Clair Ave., officers said.

Wooley told police he was making a right turn off Pennsylvania Ave. onto Dewey Ave. when Barnes pulled away from the curb and hit his car.

The collision damaged both right doors of the Wooley car and the left bumper and fender of the Barnes auto, police said.

Smokestack, Big Generating Plan Fade Into Future

NEW YORK (AP) — The 600-foot-high smokestack the Ohio Power Co. has been considering erecting near Ironton, Ohio, evidently has faded farther into the future. With it fades the possibility of a big generating plant.

The Federal Aviation Agency reports that a hearing scheduled here, requested by the power firm based in Canton, Ohio, has now been indefinitely postponed at the company's request. It had been scheduled for today.

The hearing would have been necessary because the smokestack at Hanging Rock, would be directly across the Ohio River from a small Kentucky airport, possibly creating a hazard.

The FAA said Ohio Power gave no reason for asking postponement.

The recent application by the company raised speculation that it planned to build a large electric generating plant on its property at the riverside site. But Ohio Power at the time stressed that by seeking clearance for the smokestack it did not necessarily plan actual construction in the near future.

Out Of The Air

By ALAN GILL

The Other End Of The Table

HOLLYWOOD, Calif.

There were a lot of people at the table. Dale Evans was sitting at this end, and Roy Rogers up at the other. They have a new Saturday night show coming up on AEC, starting Sept. 29, and "The Roy Rogers - Dale Evans Variety Hour" was all the talk at lunch.

Alan Gill

They were shooting a show on Oliveria in the Mexican section of Los Angeles, said Miss Evans. Outside of a mission church, they had their finale — an English version of "Ave Maria" she wrote three years ago.

Their first show was filmed at the Seattle Fair. Trigger does the twist. Cliff Arquette is on regularly as "Charley Weaver," but he's nice, very nice, very modified. No blue stuff.

So many marriages break up out here, and she thought it's because of a lack of religion. Roy and she both have a strong sense of religion.

AT THE OTHER END of the table, Rogers was telling a story of his Republic Studio days.

"I was making $75 a week and I said to Mr. Yates —"

Religious music, Miss Evans was saying, is high on her list of favorites — that and ballads. Not rock 'n' roll, which is a broken record not getting anywhere, it's just go and go and go. But inspirational songs are —

"And Mr. Yates, he said to me —"

Miss Evans said her boy, Dusty, was coming around to liking "Stranger on the Shore." Roy Jr., she said, is 16, and he is geared more to Douglas Fairbanks Jr. roles rather than cowboy parts, though they were sure not pushing it.

-:-

IT'S TOUGH to be like your daddy. She'd rather see him a doctor than a "second daddy." It's a saner life.

"Ha, ha, ha!" whooped the people at the other end of the table.

Then there's John David, 15; Mary, 10 (she's called Little Doe); Debra Lee, 10; four older married children, and nine grandchildren.

Sherrill, the oldest, might have gone into show business, but she wanted to be married. She married Tom Fox, a choirmaster and public school music teacher in Pasadena.

Marian, their Scottish girl, has a good singing voice, like Ella Logan's, but she married a Marine. Linda Lou is married, too.

-:-

"TRIGGER," Rogers' voice could be heard uttering at the other end of the table, "the first Trigger, is 29 now, fat as he can be. A real iron horse. He —"

Miss Evans was saying that she and Roy are the busiest they've been for seven years. They filmed 102 TV Westerns back then, which still are being shown.

Roy is a hunter. She used to go coon hunting with him with a flashlight, but doesn't any more. Once, on a bear hunt up at Stockton, they got lost for six hours in a snowstorm.

She likes to fool with leftovers. They have a 136-acre place up in Chatsworth. Miss Evans likes the song, "Le Mer."

-:-

"MY OLD UNCLE," we heard Rogers saying, "is 83, and he lives on a houseboat at Portsmouth, Ohio. I lived on that thing when I was a kid. And some day I'm going to take that houseboat and —"

Roy Rogers Enterprises, said Miss Evans, grosses more than $30 million annually. They've hooked up with the National Football League and they put out the Pass, Punt and Kick Football Attire. They also distribute the Charlie Weaver doll.

"You know I'm 51, pushing 52?" Rogers was asking.

Roy, Dale said, thinks in country terms. He's blunt and incisive in business and has a lot of straight country thinking to offer. That is, when he's not thinking about trap-shooting.

Miss Evans has received many wonderful religious letters as the result of her inspirational books.

"It's time to go, honey," she told Roy. And they went.

Yanks Explode For 7 Runs In 10th To Rout 2nd Place LA

Twins Top Nats, Tied For Second

By MIKE RATHET
Associated Press Sports Writer

Bill Rigney's disorderly stomach was doing the Mt. Vesuvius twist today to the accompaniment of 76 trombones.

That, at least, should be the state of Rigney's harassed internal system after the beating his Los Angels took from the American League leading New York Yankees Tuesday night.

The Angels' manager, just out of the hospital for treatment of a stomach disorder, watched his scrappy club tie the powerful Yankees in the ninth, then had to witness a seven-run explosion in the 10th inning that gave the front-runners an 11-4 victory.

Rigney suffered a soft jolt when Bill Skowron drove in the tie-breaker. Two severe quakes followed on run-producing hits by Tony Kubek and Clete Boyer. Roger Maris' grand-slam homer got the twist music going.

The victory in the opener of the key three-game series boosted the Yankees lead to five games over the Angels and Minnesota Twins, who moved into a tie for the runner-up spot by defeating Washington 5-2 on the combined four-hit pitching of Jack Kralick and Ray Moore.

Elsewhere in the AL, Detroit belted Cleveland 10-1 while Jim Bunning hurled a four-hitter, Robin Roberts pitched Baltimore to a 9-1 triumph over the Chicago White Sox and Boston walloped Kansas City 11-6.

A pair of bases-empty homers by Lee Thomas were the big blows as the Angels pulled out to a 3-1 lead over the Yankees after five innings. A two-run shot by Elston Howard in the sixth tied it. The Yanks moved out front in the seventh, but the Angels battled back to throw it into extra innings on a walk and singles by Billy Moran and Leon Wagner in the ninth inning. The deluge followed, making Bud Daley (6-3) the winner and former Yankee Ryne Duren (2-9) the loser.

Kralick 9-8 had the Senators blanked on two hits until the eighth inning when a two-run single by Don Lock brought on Moore. Moore struck out Jim King to end the uprising. The Twins jumped on Dave Stenhouse 10-9 in the fifth when singles by Bernie Allen and Zoilo Versalles, Kralick's sacrifice and Lenny Green's run-producing single and a sacrifice fly by Versalles in the sixth put it out of reach.

Bunning (13-8) was backed by a 14-hit attack while allowing the Indians only run on a first-inning homer by Al Luplow. The Tigers moved out front in their half of the first with Dick McAuliffe's two-run single the key blow of a four-run rally. McAuliffe had four singles for the night and drove in three runs. Steve Boros homered for the Tigers as the Indians went down to their 32nd defeat in the last 44 games. Jim Perry (9-10) lost it.

Roberts (8-6) limited the White Sox to seven hits and didn't allow a run until Floyd Robinson homered in the ninth. The Orioles did their damage early against Early Wynn (6-10), who was seeking his 299th victory. Wynn forced in a run with a bases-loaded walk in the first inning, then was tagged for a grand slam by John (Boog) Powell. Roberts' triumph was his 242nd. He's third among active pitchers, behind Milwaukee's Warren Spahn and Wynn.

Carl Yastrzemski paced a 15-hit Red Sox offensive that overwhelmed the Athletics and Bill Fischer (4-5). The Boston outfielder drove in five runs with a home run, double and single, contributing his two-bagger to a three-run first inning. Norm Siebern hit two homers for the A's, each time connecting with a mate aboard to raise his league-leading runs batted in total to 95. Earl Wilson (11-5) got credit for the victory.

WASHINGTON'S centerfielder Jim Piersall got into another tangle with the umpires Tuesday night at Minneapolis-St. Paul, this time over the first pitch of the game. Piersall disputes call with umpire Al Salerno. (UPI Telephoto)

AFTER BEING ejected from the game, Piersall persisted in arguing with Umpire Salerno and climbs over the bat rack in the Senators dugout. He was later restrained by his teammates. The Twins defeated the Nats 5-2. (UPI Telephoto)

Big 10, Coast Loop Say OK To Rose Bowl

CHICAGO (AP) — The Rose Bowl, granddaddy of all New New Year's Day football bowl games, again has become an official family affair between the Big Ten and the Athletic Association of Western Universities.

They formally certified a continuous contract Tuesday whereby the Big Ten's "most representative" team will appear in the Pasadena classic yearly against the AAWU champion. The West Coast group is made up of Southern California, UCLA, California, Stanford, Washington and Washington State.

The "open end" pact, similar to the one the Big Ten had with the Pacific Coast Conference before its demise in 1960, requires that cancellation by either party be on such a date which would permit two more games to be played.

The Big Ten will continue to enforce its rule that no team can appear twice in succession.

Beatty Runs Mile A Little Faster

HELSINKI, Finland (AP)—Little Jim Beatty admitted today he was disappointed at not breaking the world mile record but cheerfully pointed out that he would have other opportunities.

The barrel-chested insurance agent from Los Angeles, blasted home in 3:56.3 in a race Tuesday —less than two seconds off the world mark, and the fastest ever run by an American.

"It was a little disappointing to come so close," said Beatty. "but there are other races and maybe I'll do it yet. I certainly am coming closer and closer."

Just last Saturday in London's White City Stadium, the 5-6 Beatty hit the tape in 3:56.5. That stood as the American citizen's record for just three days.

The world record is 3:54.4 held by New Zealand's Peter Snell, so Beatty must chop just one and nine-tenths seconds off his time to equal the world mark.

"I knew I had a chance at it," said Beatty. "But I probably started to kick too late."

Two others in the race bettered four minutes—Jim Grelle of Portland, Ore., who hit the tape in 3:58.8 and Olavi Salonen of Finland in 3:59.1.

Bobby Seaman, Beatty's Los Angeles Track Club teammate, led at the 400-meter mark in 54.6, and Grelle hit the 800 meters in front in 1:55.4. Beatty took over going into the last lap.

Seaman was fourth in 4:01.8 and Laszlo Tabori, another clubmate of Beatty's was fifth in 4:06.2.

South Side Hot Stove Stars Top Foe, 9-6

South Side's Hot Stove All-Stars downed the New Brighton Pony League All-Stars 9-6.

Dave Trimble was the winning pitcher and fanned 11. John Moore had two singles to lead the winners.

Deanna's Pride Wins River Downs Feature

CINCINNATI (AP) — Deanna's Pride fought off a late rally by Weallwill and won the 5½ furlong feature of the Turf Club meeting at River Downs Tuesday by a neck.

Deanna's Pride was timed in 1:06 2-5 and paid $9. Weallwill returned $6.40 and Miss Trim was worth $6.60 for show.

Parker Views Movies, Orders Extra Drills

WEST LIBERTY, W. Va. (AP)—The Pittsburgh Steelers are working longer hours in training camp.

Coach Buddy Parker ordered twice-daily practice sessions Tuesday after reviewing movies of the Steelers 33-10 loss to the Cleveland Browns Saturday night.

The National Football League team had been holding once-a-day sessions since the first exhibition game Aug. 11.

In an effort to bolster the offensive forces, the Steelers have acquired rookie ends Dan Coffey of Memphis State and John Burrell of Rice from the San Francisco 49ers for an undisclosed draft choice.

The trade, announced Tuesday, hinges on the ability of the two newcomers to make the team.

Defensive tackle Ernie Stautner suffered an ankle injury during scrimmage Tuesday. The injury wasn't believed to be serious.

Veteran Players Released As AFL Teams Trim Rosters

By JACK CLARY
Associated Press Sports Writer

The American Football League's maturity is beginning to show, and it is costing some of its once-established veterans their jobs.

All AFL teams had to pare down to 43 players Tuesday and the league's coaches, four of whom are new in their jobs, discarded a player's experience as a prime requisite for keeping a job.

Oakland, which won only two games a year ago, cut 2-year veteran Tom Louderback, a linebacker, Willie Smith, a starting guard a year ago, and tackle Al Bansavage, a reserve linebacker last year.

The Raiders also placed End Bob Coolbaugh and rookie linebacker Joel Walenta on the injured reserve list. Coolbaugh has a broken leg and Walenta a cracked rib.

The New York Titans, another of the AFL's weaker clubs, cut linebacker Ted Greene, defensive end Paul Miller and defensive halfback Johnny Bookman. Greene and Miller were obtained from Dallas in a trade and all three had seen service last year.

Defensive end Gary Wisener, a 2-year pro veteran, was released by Houston, as was 4-year veteran Opie Bandy.

The Boston Patriots cut veteran lineman John Simerson. He has been hampered by a knee injury since last season, and was one of five cut Tuesday by Coach Mike Holovak. The others were defensive back John Parrinello, halfbacks Clarence Mason and Don Christman and tackle Tom Chandler.

In the National Football League the Los Angeles Rams also round themselves talent-rich in linemen, something they've been needing for the past five years. Four of their first five draft choices were linemen in the past college draft, and they signed all four.

With a marked improvement in the offensive and defensive lines in two exhibition victories, Los Angeles dealt John Cornett, their No. 3 draft choice from Rice, to the Dallas Cowboys for an undisclosed draft choice.

The Detroit Lions cut rookies Jim Davidson of Maryland, a back, and Karl Anderson of Bowling Green, an offensive tackle.

Playoff Set After 4 Tie In Slow Pitch

Two forfeits Tuesday put the Thompson Park Slow Pitch League into a four-way tie as the regular season came to a close.

A playoff Sunday will determine the league championship. Tied with 6-2 records are East End, the Collegians, Mets 22 and American Billiards.

Tuesday the Collegians won on a forfeit from the Flunkies and American Billiards went the same route over the Finishing Mill. Klondyke forfeited to East End Monday and Mets 22 defeated the Ridgerunners, 9-2.

Sunday in the first game at 3 p. m. on the Dixonville Field, American Billiards faces Mets 22. The Collegians and East End meet at 4 p. m., with the two winners battling in the championship game at 5 p. m.

Helmet Blamed In Death Of High School Gridder

DAYTON, Ohio (AP) — The fatal injury to a 14-year-old John Carroll High School football play has brought under fire the type of helmet he was wearing.

James T. Pfeiffenberger, Xenia boy who attended the parochial school near here, died Tuesday of a brain hemorrhage incurred during tackling practice. Montgomery County Coroner's Investigator Jack Reese blamed construction of the headgear and called for banning that style of helmet.

Pfeiffenberger's medulla (the portion of the brain at the back of the neck) was bruised, causing the hemorrhage. Reese said the face guard attached to the boy's helmet evidently pushed upward, and, with the chin strap acting as a fulcrum, the hard edge of the back of the headgear pressed on his neck.

Reese noted that the helmet's padding does not extend to the edge and said this probably cost the boy's life. The coroner's investigator called high school coaches in the area to the autopsy to point out the effect.

Big 10, Coast Loop Say OK To Rose Bowl

CHICAGO (AP) — The Rose Bowl, granddaddy of all New Year's Day football bowl games, again has become an official family affair between the Big Ten and the Athletic Association of Western Universities.

They formally certified a continuous contract Tuesday whereby the Big Ten's "most representative" team will appear in the Pasadena classic yearly against the AAWU champion. The West Coast group is made up of Southern California, UCLA, California, Stanford, Washington and Washington State.

The "open end" pact, similar to the one the Big Ten had with the Pacific Coast Conference before its demise in 1960, requires that cancellation by either party be on such a date which would permit two more games to be played.

The Big Ten will continue to enforce its rule that no team can appear twice in succession.

Beatty Runs Mile A Little Faster

HELSINKI, Finland (AP)—Little Jim Beatty admitted today he was disappointed at not breaking the world mile record but cheerfully pointed out that he would have other opportunities.

The barrel-chested insurance agent from Los Angeles, blasted home in 3:56.3 in a race Tuesday —less than two seconds off the world mark, and the fastest ever run by an American.

"It was a little disappointing to come so close," said Beatty. "but there are other races and maybe I'll do it yet. I certainly am coming closer and closer."

Just last Saturday in London's White City Stadium, the 5-6 Beatty hit the tape in 3:56.5. That stood as the American citizen's record for just three days.

The world record is 3:54.4 held by New Zealand's Peter Snell, so Beatty must chop just one and nine-tenths seconds off his time to equal the world mark.

"I knew I had a chance at it," said Beatty. "But I probably started to kick too late."

Two others in the race bettered four minutes—Jim Grelle of Portland, Ore., who hit the tape in 3:58.8 and Olavi Salonen of Finland in 3:59.1.

Bobby Seaman, Beatty's Los Angeles Track Club teammate, led at the 400-meter mark in 54.6, and Grelle hit the 800 meters in front in 1:55.4. Beatty took over going into the last lap.

Seaman was fourth in 4:01.8 and Laszlo Tabori, another clubmate of Beatty's was fifth in 4:06.2.

South Side Hot Stove Stars Top Foe, 9-6

South Side's Hot Stove All-Stars downed the New Brighton Pony League All-Stars 9-6.

Dave Trimble was the winning pitcher and fanned 11. John Moore had two singles to lead the winners.

Deanna's Pride Wins River Downs Feature

CINCINNATI (AP) — Deanna's Pride fought off a late rally by Weallwill and won the 5½ furlong feature of the Turf Club meeting at River Downs Tuesday by a neck.

Deanna's Pride was timed in 1:06 2-5 and paid $9. Weallwill returned $6.40 and Miss Trim was worth $6.60 for show.

Parker Views Movies, Orders Extra Drills

WEST LIBERTY, W. Va. (AP)—The Pittsburgh Steelers are working longer hours in training camp.

Coach Buddy Parker ordered twice-daily practice sessions Tuesday after reviewing movies of the Steelers 33-10 loss to the Cleveland Browns Saturday night.

The National Football League team had been holding once-a-day sessions since the first exhibition game Aug. 11.

In an effort to bolster the offensive forces, the Steelers have acquired rookie ends Dan Coffey of Memphis State and John Burrell of Rice from the San Francisco 49ers for an undisclosed draft choice.

The trade, announced Tuesday, hinges on the ability of the two newcomers to make the team.

Defensive tackle Ernie Stautner suffered an ankle injury during scrimmage Tuesday. The injury wasn't believed to be serious.

Veteran Players Released As AFL Teams Trim Rosters

By JACK CLARY
Associated Press Sports Writer

The American Football League's maturity is beginning to show, and it is costing some of its once-established veterans their jobs.

All AFL teams had to pare down to 43 players Tuesday and the league's coaches, four of whom are new in their jobs, discarded a player's experience as a prime requisite for keeping a job.

Oakland, which won only two games a year ago, cut 2-year veteran Tom Louderback, a linebacker, Willie Smith, a starting guard a year ago, and tackle Al Bansavage, a reserve linebacker last year.

The Raiders also placed End Bob Coolbaugh and rookie linebacker Joel Walenta on the injured reserve list. Coolbaugh has a broken leg and Walenta a cracked rib.

The New York Titans, another of the AFL's weaker clubs, cut linebacker Ted Greene, defensive end Paul Miller and defensive halfback Johnny Bookman. Greene and Miller were obtained from Dallas in a trade and all three had seen service last year.

Defensive end Gary Wisener, a 2-year pro veteran, was released by Houston, as was 4-year veteran Opie Bandy.

The Boston Patriots cut veteran lineman John Simerson. He has been hampered by a knee injury since last season, and was one of five cut Tuesday by Coach Mike Holovak. The others were defensive back John Parrinello, halfbacks Clarence Mason and Don Christman and tackle Tom Chandler.

In the National Football League the Los Angeles Rams also round themselves talent-rich in linemen, something they've been needing for the past five years. Four of their first five draft choices were linemen in the past college draft, and they signed all four.

With a marked improvement in the offensive and defensive lines in two exhibition victories, Los Angeles dealt John Cornett, their No. 3 draft choice from Rice, to the Dallas Cowboys for an undisclosed draft choice.

The Detroit Lions cut rookies Jim Davidson of Maryland, a back, and Karl Anderson of Bowling Green, an offensive tackle.

Playoff Set After 4 Tie In Slow Pitch

Two forfeits Tuesday put the Thompson Park Slow Pitch League into a four-way tie as the regular season came to a close.

A playoff Sunday will determine the league championship. Tied with 6-2 records are East End, the Collegians, Mets 22 and American Billiards.

Tuesday the Collegians won on a forfeit from the Flunkies and American Billiards went the same route over the Finishing Mill. Klondyke forfeited to East End Monday and Mets 22 defeated the Ridgerunners, 9-2.

Sunday in the first game at 3 p. m. on the Dixonville Field, American Billiards faces Mets 22. The Collegians and East End meet at 4 p. m., with the two winners battling in the championship game at 5 p. m.

Helmet Blamed In Death Of High School Gridder

DAYTON, Ohio (AP) — The fatal injury to a 14-year-old John Carroll High School football play has brought under fire the type of helmet he was wearing.

James T. Pfeiffenberger, Xenia boy who attended the parochial school near here, died Tuesday of a brain hemorrhage incurred during tackling practice. Montgomery County Coroner's Investigator Jack Reese blamed construction of the headgear and called for banning that style of helmet.

Pfeiffenberger's medulla (the portion of the brain at the back of the neck) was bruised, causing the hemorrhage. Reese said the face guard attached to the boy's helmet evidently pushed upward, and, with the chin strap acting as a fulcrum, the hard edge of the back of the headgear pressed on his neck.

Reese noted that the helmet's padding does not extend to the edge and said this probably cost the boy's life. The coroner's investigator called high school coaches in the area to the autopsy to point out the effect.

Maloney's 4-Hitter Puts Reds 5 Games Off Leaders

Bucs Split Pair With Casey's Boys

By MIKE RATHET
Associated Press Sports Writer

'Round about June, Cincinnati Manager Fred Hutchinson had a perplexing mathematical problem. No matter how he added things up, his search for a fourth starter invariably left him with three. Then Hutch had a hunch—Jim Maloney.

It's August, the defending champion Reds have pulled to within five games of National League-leading Los Angeles and are only 1½ back of second-place San Francisco. One of the major reasons—Jim Maloney.

A right-hander who originally started in the Cincinnati organization as a shortstop, Maloney continued his fine hurling Tuesday with a four-hit job while Marty Keough's two-run inside-the-park homer provided the support for a 2-0 triumph over the Chicago Cubs.

It was the fourth consecutive triumph for Maloney, who has solved Hutch's pitching problem by joining Bob Purkey (19-4), Joey Jay (18-10) and Jim O'Toole (13-13) as the Reds' big four. Maloney now is 8-4 and has allowed only six runs in his last four starts—an amazing .164 earned run average.

Keough, meanwhile, took over where the Reds' big hitters—Frank Robinson, Vada Pinson and Gordie Coleman—failed against Don Cardwell. The 28-year-old utilityman, acquired from Washington and hitting at a .288 clip, stroked the game-winner in the eighth inning after a single by Leo Cardenas.

The triumph was the Reds' 14th in the last 17 games and moved them another step closer to the Dodgers and Giants, who were both idle Tuesday.

In other action, Milwaukee edged St. Louis 6-5 in 10 innings, Pittsburgh extended New York's losing streak to 13 games with an 8-6 triumph in the opener of a doubleheader before the Mets came back to win 5-4. Art Mahaffey got Philadelphia off to a sweep over Houston with a 5-3 first-game triumph for his 17th victory. The Phils made it 15 in a row without a loss over the Colts by winning the nightcap 7-4.

The Cards tied it in the ninth on a run-producing bloop single by Charlie James, but the Braves came up with the winner in the 10th on a double by pinch hitter Joe Torre and a two-out single by Lee Maye. Earlier, Tommie Aaron homered for the Braves while brother Hank extended his hitting streak to 21 games.

Gene Oliver homered for St. Louis. The winner was Claude Raymond (5-2), who has saved nine games since joining the club June 28. Don Ferrarese (1-4) was the loser.

The Pirates came up with four runs in the ninth inning of the opener—three on a throwing error by third baseman Felix Mantilla—to beat the Mets and Roger Craig (7-20). Reliever Diomedes Olivo (4-1), who singled across the fourth run, got the victory.

In the nightcap, Marv Throneberry came out of the coaching box and tagged a two-out, three-run, pinch-hit homer that enabled the Mets to snap their second longest losing streak of the year. Robert G. Miller (2-1) was the winner with Elroy Face (8-5) the loser.

Mahaffey (17-10) was touched for seven Houston hits, one more than the Phillies got in the opener but led all the way after a three-run Philadelphia first. Bob Bruce (7-8) gave up two walks and hit a batter in the inning with Don Demeter's looping single the only hit.

In the second game, consecutive home runs by Johnny Callison and Roy Sievers moved the Phils out front to stay in the first inning. Callison went 4-for-4 in support of Jack Hamilton (7-11), who gave up homers to Jim Campbell and Carl Warwick. Jim Golden (5-11) lost it.

Cincy Was Picked For 6th

Reds Not Out Of It Yet

By JOE MOOSHIL
Associated Press Sports Writer

CHICAGO (AP)—Only the mood is different this season with the Cincinnati Reds. The objective is the same as last year—the National League pennant.

Spirit, desire, breaks, good pitching and the big bat of Frank Robinson carried them to the title in 1961. But not until they actually clinched were the sceptics willing to concede.

Then came the disastrous World Series which the New York Yankees won, 4-1, and such murmurs as "lucky" and "cheese champs" were heard. In fact, the Reds were picked by many to finish as low as sixth this year.

The Reds will be the first to admit they have a long haul in a short period of time if they are to successfully defend their National League title. And they are the last to admit they are out of the race although they are in third place, five games behind the league-leading Los Angeles Dodgers.

"There's still a month and a half to go," said Manager Fred Hutchinson Tuesday after his club defeated the Chicago Cubs, 2-0, on Marty Keough's two-run, inside-the-park homer which backed some nifty pitching by Jim Maloney.

"Remember this spring," said Hutchinson. "A lot of people picked us to finish sixth. Well, we're not going to finish sixth. But we still have a chance for the pennant."

Hutchinson isn't a bit worried about his pitching corps, anchored by Bob Purkey (19-4), Joey Jay 18-10; and Jim O'Toole (13-13) and receiving splendid help recently from Maloney (8-4) and Joe Nuxhall (3-0). He is worried about his hitting despite Robinson's great year.

"Robby can't do it alone," said Hutchinson. "He needs help epecially from Vada Pinson and Gordy Coleman. And maybe a couple of others.

Pinson, 50 points below his 1961 pace has a .292 average with 19 home runs and 72 runs batted in. Coleman has 25 home runs and 72 RBIs but is batting .265.

Herrera Returns To Buffalo With Big Bat Booming

By The Associated Press

Two years ago, Pancho Herrera won the International League's triple crown — batting, runs batted in and home runs. It earned him a season with the Philadelphia Phillies.

Now he's back in Buffalo, up to his old tricks again.

Tuesday night the Bisons won a 15-inning, 7-6 marathon from Rochester on John Herrnstein's home run. But Herrera was the big man, batting in five runs on two homers.

In other action, the Columbus Jets ran their winning streak to six with a 3-2 decision over Richmond, Toronto edged Syracuse 5-4 and Jacksonville downed Atlanta 6-3.

Orlando McFarlane hit a homer for the Jets and Mike Mathiesen hit one for Richmond. But the winning run in the sixth inning was a gift. Pedro Gonzales booted Willie Stargell's grounder. Stargell advanced to third base on the next two outs and score when Joe Pipitone bobbled John Powers hopper.

Delay In Suit DeWitt Seeks On Reds Sale

CINCINNATI (AP)—The Crosley Foundation and President Bill DeWitt of the Cincinnati Reds want to delay before answering a suit seeking to void DeWitt's purchase of the team.

Attorneys for the foundation and DeWitt filed for the delay Tuesday in Common Pleas Court.

The University of Cincinnati and the Cincinnati YMCA earlier asked to be relieved as parties to the suit because they were given stock in the old Cincinnati Baseball Club Co. by the foundation. They said they were unwilling parties to the suit.

The foundation and DeWitt asked to defer their answer to the suit until the court has ruled on the action by the University and YMCA.

DeWitt bought the team from the foundation, but Ohio Atty. Gen. Mark McElroy filed suit to block the sale.

A hearing on the requests of the university and the YMCA is scheduled Oct. 11.

Byron (Whizzer) White, the newly appointed Supreme Court justice, was an all-pro halfback in 1940 with the Detroit Lions of the National Football League.

Joe Watches Temper Boos Turn To Cheers

CINCINNATI (AP) — Joe Nuxhall says he has learned to curb his temper and, at least as of now, he is hearing cheers instead of boos from critical Cincinnati baseball fans.

Nuxhall hails from Hamilton, about 20 miles away. He got his first start with the Reds in 1944 when he was only 15 years old. After kicking around in the minors, he came back to the Reds in 1952 and stayed through the 1959 season. Like many others, he became a particular target of home town boos when he failed to be an outstanding success despite an 87-73 record.

A stint in the American League followed and then Joe went to San Diego of the Pacific Coast League this year. The Reds bought him back in midseason.

Most of his troubles had come from his temper — he blew up when errors were made or opposing batters clubbed him for solid hits. He kicked water coolers when he was taken from a game.

So the fans booed.

Since coming back to Cincinnati, the 34-year-old southpaw has appeared in six games. He has allowed 21 hits in 30 2-3 innnings given up 3 earned runs, walked 7, and struck out 28 and has a 3-0 record.

He has made three starts but his finest one came Saturday night when he beat the Los Angeles Dodgers 12-1, allowing only four hits and striking out 11.

He got a standing ovation when the game ended and teammates escorted him to the clubhouse.

The first holder of the mile record in track was Charles Lawes of Great Britain, who ran it in 4:56.0 in 1864.

Maloney's 4-Hitter Puts Reds 5 Games Off Leaders

By MIKE RATHET
Associated Press Sports Writer

'Round about June, Cincinnati Manager Fred Hutchinson had a perplexing mathematical problem. No matter how he added things up, his search for a fourth starter invariably left him with three. Then Hutch had a hunch—Jim Maloney.

It's August, the defending champion Reds have pulled to within five games of National League-leading Los Angeles and are only 1½ back of second-place San Francisco. One of the major reasons—Jim Maloney.

A right-hander who originally started in the Cincinnati organization as a shortstop, Maloney continued his fine hurling Tuesday with a four-hit job while Marty Keough's two-run inside-the-park homer provided the support for a 2-0 triumph over the Chicago Cubs.

It was the fourth consecutive triumph for Maloney, who has solved Hutch's pitching problem by joining Bob Purkey (19-4), Joey Jay (18-10) and Jim O'Toole (13-13) as the Reds' big four. Maloney now is 8-4 and has allowed only six runs in his last four starts—an amazing .164 earned run average.

Keough, meanwhile, took over where the Reds' big hitters—Frank Robinson, Vada Pinson and Gordie Coleman—failed against Don Cardwell. The 28-year-old utilityman, acquired from Washington and hitting at a .288 clip, stroked the game-winner in the eighth inning after a single by Leo Cardenas.

The triumph was the Reds' 14th in the last 17 games and moved them another step closer to the Dodgers and Giants, who were both idle Tuesday.

In other action, Milwaukee edged St. Louis 6-5 in 10 innings, Pittsburgh extended New York's losing streak to 13 games with an 8-6 triumph in the opener of a doubleheader before the Mets came back to win 5-4. Art Mahaffey got Philadelphia off to a sweep over Houston with a 5-3 first-game triumph for his 17th victory. The Phils made it 15 in a row without a loss over the Colts by winning the nightcap 7-4.

The Cards tied it in the ninth on a run-producing bloop single by Charlie James, but the Braves came up with the winner in the 10th on a double by pinch hitter Joe Torre and a two-out single by Lee Maye. Earlier, Tommie Aaron homered for the Braves while brother Hank extended his hitting streak to 21 games.

Gene Oliver homered for St. Louis. The winner was Claude Raymond (5-2), who has saved nine games since joining the club June 28. Don Ferrarese (1-4) was the loser.

The Pirates came up with four runs in the ninth inning of the opener—three on a throwing error by third baseman Felix Mantilla—to beat the Mets and Roger Craig (7-20). Reliever Diomedes Olivo (4-1), who singled across the fourth run, got the victory.

In the nightcap, Marv Throneberry came out of the coaching box and tagged a two-out, three-run, pinch-hit homer that enabled the Mets to snap their second longest losing streak of the year. Robert G. Miller (2-1) was the winner with Elroy Face (8-5) the loser.

Mahaffey (17-10) was touched for seven Houston hits, one more than the Phillies got in the opener but led all the way after a three-run Philadelphia first. Bob Bruce (7-8) gave up two walks and hit a batter in the inning with Don Demeter's looping single the only hit.

In the second game, consecutive home runs by Johnny Callison and Roy Sievers moved the Phils out front to stay in the first inning. Callison went 4-for-4 in support of Jack Hamilton (7-11), who gave up homers to Jim Campbell and Carl Warwick. Jim Golden (5-11) lost it.

Cincy Was Picked For 6th

Reds Not Out Of It Yet

By JOE MOOSHIL
Associated Press Sports Writer

CHICAGO (AP)—Only the mood is different this season with the Cincinnati Reds. The objective is the same as last year—the National League pennant.

Spirit, desire, breaks, good pitching and the big bat of Frank Robinson carried them to the title in 1961. But not until they actually clinched were the sceptics willing to concede.

Then came the disastrous World Series which the New York Yankees won, 4-1, and such murmurs as "lucky" and "cheese champs" were heard. In fact, the Reds were picked by many to finish as low as sixth this year.

The Reds will be the first to admit they have a long haul in a short period of time if they are to successfully defend their National League title. And they are the last to admit they are out of the race although they are in third place, five games behind the league-leading Los Angeles Dodgers.

"There's still a month and a half to go," said Manager Fred Hutchinson Tuesday after his club defeated the Chicago Cubs, 2-0, on Marty Keough's two-run, inside-the-park homer which backed some nifty pitching by Jim Maloney.

"Remember this spring," said Hutchinson. "A lot of people picked us to finish sixth. Well, we're not going to finish sixth. But we still have a chance for the pennant."

Hutchinson isn't a bit worried about his pitching corps, anchored by Bob Purkey (19-4), Joey Jay 18-10; and Jim O'Toole (13-13) and receiving splendid help recently from Maloney (8-4) and Joe Nuxhall (3-0). He is worried about his hitting despite Robinson's great year.

"Robby can't do it alone," said Hutchinson. "He needs help epecially from Vada Pinson and Gordy Coleman. And maybe a couple of others.

Pinson, 50 points below his 1961 pace has a .292 average with 19 home runs and 72 runs batted in. Coleman has 25 home runs and 72 RBIs but is batting .265.

Herrera Returns To Buffalo With Big Bat Booming

By The Associated Press

Two years ago, Pancho Herrera won the International League's triple crown — batting, runs batted in and home runs. It earned him a season with the Philadelphia Phillies.

Now he's back in Buffalo, up to his old tricks again.

Tuesday night the Bisons won a 15-inning, 7-6 marathon from Rochester on John Herrnstein's home run. But Herrera was the big man, batting in five runs on two homers.

In other action, the Columbus Jets ran their winning streak to six with a 3-2 decision over Richmond, Toronto edged Syracuse 5-4 and Jacksonville downed Atlanta 6-3.

Orlando McFarlane hit a homer for the Jets and Mike Mathiesen hit one for Richmond. But the winning run in the sixth inning was a gift. Pedro Gonzales booted Willie Stargell's grounder. Stargell advanced to third base on the next two outs and score when Joe Pipitone bobbled John Powers hopper.

Delay In Suit DeWitt Seeks On Reds Sale

CINCINNATI (AP)—The Crosley Foundation and President Bill DeWitt of the Cincinnati Reds want to delay before answering a suit seeking to void DeWitt's purchase of the team.

Attorneys for the foundation and DeWitt filed for the delay Tuesday in Common Pleas Court.

The University of Cincinnati and the Cincinnati YMCA earlier asked to be relieved as parties to the suit because they were given stock in the old Cincinnati Baseball Club Co. by the foundation. They said they were unwilling parties to the suit.

The foundation and DeWitt asked to defer their answer to the suit until the court has ruled on the action by the University and YMCA.

DeWitt bought the team from the foundation, but Ohio Atty. Gen. Mark McElroy filed suit to block the sale.

A hearing on the requests of the university and the YMCA is scheduled Oct. 11.

Joe Watches Temper Boos Turn To Cheers

CINCINNATI (AP) — Joe Nuxhall says he has learned to curb his temper and, at least as of now, he is hearing cheers instead of boos from critical Cincinnati baseball fans.

Nuxhall hails from Hamilton, about 20 miles away. He got his first start with the Reds in 1944 when he was only 15 years old. After kicking around in the minors, he came back to the Reds in 1952 and stayed through the 1959 season. Like many others, he became a particular target of home town boos when he failed to be an outstanding success despite an 87-73 record.

A stint in the American League followed and then Joe went to San Diego of the Pacific Coast League this year. The Reds bought him back in midseason.

Most of his troubles had come from his temper — he blew up when errors were made or opposing batters clubbed him for solid hits. He kicked water coolers when he was taken from a game.

So the fans booed.

Since coming back to Cincinnati, the 34-year-old southpaw has appeared in six games. He has allowed 21 hits in 30 2-3 innnings given up 3 earned runs, walked 7, and struck out 28 and has a 3-0 record.

He has made three starts but his finest one came Saturday night when he beat the Los Angeles Dodgers 12-1, allowing only four hits and striking out 11.

He got a standing ovation when the game ended and teammates escorted him to the clubhouse.

Ironmen To Face Strong Columbus Team Saturday

The Wheeling Ironmen, who had their troubles against the aerial attack of the Cleveland Bulldogs last Saturday, will face a double-barreled passing assault this Saturday night when the Columbus Capitals are met under the lights at Martins Ferry Stadium.

Frank Kremblas, who quarterbacked Ohio State to Big 10 and national honors and a Rose Bowl berth in 1957, has returned to the Caps from the Canadian League and will have his pitching arm cranked up to go against the Ironmen Saturday.

As back-up man for Kremblas, the Caps boast another air artist in Larry Cline, who threw more touchdown passes than any other collegian in the nation when performing for Otterbein College in 1960.

Gene Fekete, the former Ohio State and Cleveland Brown fullback who coaches the Caps, used both Kremblas and Cline to advantage last Saturday night as Columbus trimmed the Chicago Bulls, 33-14, in a Shrine game at Lancaster. The Caps rolled up 244 yards by passes against Chicago with Kremblas and Cline being credited with more than 10 yards apiece on their tosses.

Leading rusher for Columbus against Chicago was ex-Bowling Green standout "Chuck" Comer, who is also a proficient placekicker.

Heavyweights of the Caps are Tackles Bill Cummings, of Ohio State, and Ken Plager, who weigh in at 280 and 275 pounds, respectively.

Loaded with Ohio State talent, Columbus was Eastern Division champion of the UFL last year and runner-up to Grand Rapids for the league crown. Fekete and Assistant Coaches Rosso, Vic Janowicz and Stan Jones feel that this year's club will be even stronger, thanks to the addition of a number of ultra - promising pro rookies, particularly Houck and his Ohio State teammate, Punter Ed Ulmer.

New Bomb Scare Hits Cincinnati Airport

CINCINNATI (AP) — For the second straight night, American Airlines flights centering on Greater Cincinnati Airport have been hampered because of a false bomb scare. A woman called the flight service section of the Federal Aeronautics Administration Tuesday night and said, "there is a bomb on American Airlines."

A search of planes at Columbus and Dayton turned up no bomb, but the Columbus flight was delayed 2½ hours and the one in Dayton was held back nearly an hour. A similar call Monday caused delay in four flights from Cincinnati.

Ironmen To Face Strong Columbus Team Saturday

The Wheeling Ironmen, who had their troubles against the aerial attack of the Cleveland Bulldogs last Saturday, will face a double-barreled passing assault this Saturday night when the Columbus Capitals are met under the lights at Martins Ferry Stadium.

Frank Kremblas, who quarterbacked Ohio State to Big 10 and national honors and a Rose Bowl berth in 1957, has returned to the Caps from the Canadian League and will have his pitching arm cranked up to go against the Ironmen Saturday.

As back-up man for Kremblas, the Caps boast another air artist in Larry Cline, who threw more touchdown passes than any other collegian in the nation when performing for Otterbein College in 1960.

Gene Fekete, the former Ohio State and Cleveland Brown fullback who coaches the Caps, used both Kremblas and Cline to advantage last Saturday night as Columbus trimmed the Chicago Bulls, 33-14, in a Shrine game at Lancaster. The Caps rolled up 244 yards by passes against Chicago with Kremblas and Cline being credited with more than 10 yards apiece on their tosses.

Leading rusher for Columbus against Chicago was ex-Bowling Green standout "Chuck" Comer, who is also a proficient placekicker.

The defense featured Ronnie Houck, a terrific defensive halfback for Ohio State last year. Houck intercepted two passes.

George Rosso, former Ohio State and Washington Redskin back, is defensive coach for the Caps and apparently has come up with a powerful unit.

Heavyweights of the Caps are Tackles Bill Cummings, of Ohio State, and Ken Plager, who weigh in at 280 and 275 pounds, respectively.

Loaded with Ohio State talent, Columbus was Eastern Division champion of the UFL last year and runner-up to Grand Rapids for the league crown. Fekete and Assistant Coaches Rosso, Vic Janowicz and Stan Jones feel that this year's club will be even stronger, thanks to the addition of a number of ultra - promising pro rookies, particularly Houck and his Ohio State teammate, Punter Ed Ulmer.

New Bomb Scare Hits Cincinnati Airport

CINCINNATI (AP) — For the second straight night, American Airlines flights centering on Greater Cincinnati Airport have been hampered because of a false bomb scare. A woman called the flight service section of the Federal Aeronautics Administration Tuesday night and said, "there is a bomb on American Airlines."

A search of planes at Columbus and Dayton turned up no bomb, but the Columbus flight was delayed 2½ hours and the one in Dayton was held back nearly an hour. A similar call Monday caused delay in four flights from Cincinnati.

Havlicek Is Cut By Grid Browns

HIRAM, Ohio (AP—The Cleveland Browns of the National Football league today cut former Ohio State basketball star John Havlicek and two other prospects from the squad.

Also lopped from the roster were end Ron Meyers of Villanova and tackle Ted Stute of Ohio University.

Coach Paul Brown said Havlicek "did amazingly well, but was handicapped by his years away from football while at Ohio State." He had been a star quarterback in high school.

"John not only was trying to make a pro team, but was trying out a new position," said Brown. "He's very courageous and caught the ball well, but the art of getting open on receiving patterns is something you get only with experience.

"He probably could have stayed on a while longer, but I felt it was better to make the decision now. I told John I felt his future was in basketball and I think he concurs in this.

"He was very understanding of the decision and told me 'I have satisfied myself about football and have had a wonderful experience here at the training camp.' "

Brown said he thought both Stute and Meyers eventually could play pro ball, but that it was a matter of maturing. Stute, 6-foot-4, 235 pounds, should weigh 250 pounds in a couple of years, which will make him a better player, Brown said. Meyers, recently turned 21, has been hampered in training camp by a succession of groin injuries.

Havlicek, drafted by Cleveland of the American Basketball League and Boston of the National Basketball Association, said he probably would play with Boston.

"I consider the Celtics the New York Yankees of basketball," said Havlicek, who tried out as flanker back for the Browns.

The 6-foot-5, 210-pound cage star said he had thought before it would be nice to join up with Jerry Lucas, All America from Ohio State now with Cleveland of the ABL, but that he "wasn't too sure" of the new league.

The cuts brought the roster down to 44 players. Another player must be cut by next Tuesday. Jim Houston, veteran defensive end who is in the Army but available on weekends, must be counted in the final figure.

New Cumberland Lions To Hold Community Fair

NEW CUMBERLAND — The Lions Club is proceeding with plans for its annual Community Fair Friday, Aug. 31, through Monday, Sept. 3, at the New Cumberland High School Athletic Field.

John D. Herron, chairman, said the Lions, in co-operaion with various clubs and organizations of the area, have scheduled the event for the Labor Day holidays to attract residents away from the crowded highways.

The fair is not considered a fund - raising project, but is presented mainly for family entertainment. No admission is charged to the fairgrounds or exhibits.

New to the four - day fair this year will be a permanent - type display building to house the exhibits, Herron said. Among the organizations with exhibits will be Fairview Grange, Pioneer 4-H Club and the Wyandote Archers. Commercial and industrial exhibits will also be on display. There will be carnival - type rides available, including a ferris wheel.

First special event will be a concert by the New Cumberland Band Aug. 31 at 7 p. m. Other musicians will perform that night.

The Weir High Band will perform Sept. 1 at 8 p. m. and Paul Campbell's 11-piece band will present music for dancing at the fairgrounds at 9 p. m.

A community hymn sing at 8 p. m. will highlight Sunday's musical events. "Mr. Dee-Jay" and the "Velta-Tears" will be featured for music Monday night at 8 at the fairgrounds.

Two special events are scheduled for the youngsters, Herron announced. The opening feature Sept. 1 will be a pet show at 2 p. m. sponsored by the Young Women's Club. The program Sept. 3 will open with a doll show at 2 p. m. for area children, with prizes to be awarded.

"For those interested in gardening, the fair will offer a chance to see professional flower arranging demonstrations, and also a chance to enter an arrangement for judging, or a variety of flowers to compete for the best of a variety prize," Herron said.

The first flower arranging demonstration will be Aug. 31 at 8:30 p. m. by Mrs. Preston Jordan of Follansbee. Mrs. Frank Richmond of Chester will demonstrate arrangements Sept. 1 at 7:30, and Mrs. Campbell Herron of New Cumberland and Mrs. Maxine Burch of Chester will demonstrate Sept. 3 at 3 and 8:30 p. m.

On Sept. 1, the "Prop Spinners Club" of Wintersville will display and fly model airplanes in the afternoon. An art exhibit will be held Sept. 2 from 2 to 4 p. m. at Swaney Memorial Library.

All events of Friday, Saturday and Monday will take place at the fairgrounds at the athletic field, but the grounds will be closed Sunday. The hymn sing will be held at the Christian Church.

W. Cecil Jones and William Murray are co-chairmen of the project.

Fisherman Receives Help From The Sky

KEY WEST, Fla. (AP) — Help came from the skies to a Key West fisherman who broke an oar while out in a rowboat and began to drift towards dangerous shoals.

The pilot of a Navy helicopter noticed the plight of Horace Crawford and maneuvered until his 'copter blades were kicking up strong enough waves to hold the little boat off the rocks. The helicopter hovered until a crash boat arrived to tow Crawford to safety.

Marv Leaves Coaching Lines To Deliver Key HR

By ED CORRIGAN
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP)—Now they are calling Marvelous Marv Throneberry the best first base coach in the business.

It isn't that he is so shrewd stealing catchers' signs. It isn't that he is so crafty directing traffic. It isn't that he is so slick sending a runner off to steal at exactly the right moment.

But who else can come off the coaching lines to pinch hit and blast a game winning home run?

No one, that's who. No one except Marvelous Marv.

Over the season, Marvelous Marv has become the favorite whipping boy of the New York Mets' fans in the Polo Grounds. He has an unfortunate knack of doing just the wrong thing at the right time.

But when his homer (with two on and two out in the ninth) snapped the Mets' losing streak at 13 games Tuesday and gave them a 5-4 victory over the Pittsburgh Pirates in the second half of a doubleheader, Marvelous Marv suddenly turned into Frank Marriwell. He was the darling of the fans.

"Don't think I'm not happy," the easy-going Marv said today. "I like applause just as much as the next guy. I couldn't have been more pleased when those people cheered me. I don't get much of it, you know."

DiSalle Urges More Funds For Schools, Colleges

ZANESVILLE, Ohio (AP) — Democratic Gov. Michael V. DiSalle wound up a day-long campaign tour here Tuesday by saying "the time is long past due when Ohio legislators are going to have to face up to the task of adequately financing Ohio's public schools and colleges."

In his prepared speech, the governor quoted what he said was an editorial in the Cincinnati Enquirer last April saying: "The obvious conclusion is that the men who have been elected to the General Assembly in recent years do not set great store by education above the high school. . . ."

"Those aren't my words," the governor said, "but I couldn't agree with them more."

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J. (AP) — A record school budget for Atlantic City was adopted in record time. The budget, calling for school spending of $3,377,329 in 1962-63, was approved one minute and eight seconds after the Board of School Estimate opened its meeting.

Change For Rowdies

HIALEAH, Fla. (AP) — City bus driver Harry Darling knows how to handle rowdy teen-agers. After a teen-age dance recently, 30 kids clambered aboard Darling's bus and started yelling and slaping each other. Straight to the Police Station went Darling. The kids calmed down quickly.

Attacked At Phone

LEXINGTON, Ky. (AP) — Sgt. Joe Brown Jr. discovered a new hazard in police work. Opening a call box to telephone headquarters, Brown was stung several times on the left hand by wasps. He destroyed the nest, then drove to a hospital for treatment.

BRADENTON, Fla. (AP) — Bob Marshall of Palmetto teed off on the 325-yard 10th hole on the Palmetto Pines Golf Course and scored a hole in one recently.

Cincinnati Maker Of Drugs Tells Of Deformed Baby

CINCINNATI (AP)—The Cincinnati maker of thalidomide says a baby was born here severely deformed in spring of 1961, and there was reason to suspect the mother took the drug during pregnancy.

Frank N. Getman, president of the William S. Merrell Co., reported Tuesday the baby died about 11 months after birth.

He said in a statement that investigation of the case was continuing "in the search for conclusive evidence of what part thalidomide may have played in this sad case."

Getman said the mother's doctor had been testing Merrell's thalidomide, and at the time there was no reason to link the drug with birth defects.

Getman's statement followed a report of the case Tuesday by the Federal Food and Drug Administration in Washington.

He said Merrell had reported the case last Wednesday to the FDA after the company's own investigation.

Getman said neither the mother nor her doctor would be identified.

Havlicek Is Cut By Grid Browns

HIRAM, Ohio (AP—The Cleveland Browns of the National Football league today cut former Ohio State basketball star John Havlicek and two other prospects from the squad.

Also lopped from the roster were end Ron Meyers of Villanova and tackle Ted Stute of Ohio University.

Coach Paul Brown said Havlicek "did amazingly well, but was handicapped by his years away from football while at Ohio State." He had been a star quarterback in high school.

"John not only was trying to make a pro team, but was trying out a new position," said Brown. "He's very courageous and caught the ball well, but the art of getting open on receiving patterns is something you get only with experience.

"He probably could have stayed on a while longer, but I felt it was better to make the decision now. I told John I felt his future was in basketball and I think he concurs in this.

"He was very understanding of the decision and told me 'I have satisfied myself about football and have had a wonderful experience here at the training camp.' "

Brown said he thought both Stute and Meyers eventually could play pro ball, but that it was a matter of maturing. Stute, 6-foot-4, 235 pounds, should weigh 250 pounds in a couple of years, which will make him a better player, Brown said. Meyers, recently turned 21, has been hampered in training camp by a succession of groin injuries.

Havlicek, drafted by Cleveland of the American Basketball League and Boston of the National Basketball Association, said he probably would play with Boston.

"I consider the Celtics the New York Yankees of basketball," said Havlicek, who tried out as flanker back for the Browns.

The 6-foot-5, 210-pound cage star said he had thought before it would be nice to join up with Jerry Lucas, All America from Ohio State now with Cleveland of the ABL, but that he "wasn't too sure" of the new league.

The cuts brought the roster down to 44 players. Another player must be cut by next Tuesday. Jim Houston, veteran defensive end who is in the Army but available on weekends, must be counted in the final figure.

Marv Leaves Coaching Lines To Deliver Key HR

By ED CORRIGAN
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP)—Now they are calling Marvelous Marv Throneberry the best first base coach in the business.

It isn't that he is so shrewd stealing catchers' signs. It isn't that he is so crafty directing traffic. It isn't that he is so slick sending a runner off to steal at exactly the right moment.

But who else can come off the coaching lines to pinch hit and blast a game winning home run?

No one, that's who. No one except Marvelous Marv.

Over the season, Marvelous Marv has become the favorite whipping boy of the New York Mets' fans in the Polo Grounds. He has an unfortunate knack of doing just the wrong thing at the right time.

But when his homer (with two on and two out in the ninth) snapped the Mets' losing streak at 13 games Tuesday and gave them a 5-4 victory over the Pittsburgh Pirates in the second half of a doubleheader, Marvelous Marv suddenly turned into Frank Marriwell. He was the darling of the fans.

"Don't think I'm not happy," the easy-going Marv said today. "I like applause just as much as the next guy. I couldn't have been more pleased when those people cheered me. I don't get much of it, you know."

DiSalle Urges More Funds For Schools, Colleges

ZANESVILLE, Ohio (AP) — Democratic Gov. Michael V. DiSalle wound up a day-long campaign tour here Tuesday by saying "the time is long past due when Ohio legislators are going to have to face up to the task of adequately financing Ohio's public schools and colleges."

In his prepared speech, the governor quoted what he said was an editorial in the Cincinnati Enquirer last April saying: "The obvious conclusion is that the men who have been elected to the General Assembly in recent years do not set great store by education above the high school. . . ."

"Those aren't my words," the governor said, "but I couldn't agree with them more."

Hints from Heloise

— By Heloise Cruse —

DEAR HELOISE: Did you ever get provoked because your flour cannister just won't hold five pounds of flour and there you are with flour left over for the weevils?

I solved this! At the same time, I also solved the problem of making gravy. Fill a big, heavy, dry iron skillet with leftover flour and place this in your oven at 250 Deg. Stir this every so often with your fork or pancake turner. Mash out all the little lumps as you stir, until the flour is brown.

At this low temperature, the flour won't burn. It may take a long time, but believe me . . . the good brown parched taste is well worth it. Be sure to let the flour bake until it is as brown as you can get it. Then store it in any old can or jar with a tight lid.

This concoction can be used in so many things and makes them so much better.

When you fry bacon, chicken or chops . . . even steak . . . use this. Then just stir in the proper amount of the mixture into the warm grease for gravy. No need to brown further. Just add milk or meat stock, season with salt and pepper, and you have the best gravy ever!

I have made a good gravy with this same concoction by adding a couple of cubes of bouillon. Don't knock it until you have tried it. It's terrific!

My mother-in-law browns a little flour in her dry iron skillet on top of the stove when she does not have any made up. This takes constant watching and stirring but works just as well.

You will have more compliments on your gravy and not much, if any, left, I'll tell you. I hope it helps you lumpy gravy-makers . . . nary a lump and it's always brown.

FELLOW SUFFERER.

Useful Vinegar

DEAR HELOISE: Me, too! Vinegar does so many things. There is nothing better for cleaning the dirtiest windows and mirrors than pure vinegar on a cloth, followed by wiping with a crumpled newspaper.

That "something" in the newsprint just does it. I believe the damper and more crumpled the paper becomes, the better it is. No lint! Just shine!

For the gals who use typewriters and have big families living in a million different places . . . do as we do in our family. Invest in typing paper and carbin paper and write the whole bloomin' family at the same time. You will love the results. We do! More letters to send and receive and better with pencil and carbon paper or a ball point pen.

MRS. L. C. KRUEGER.

Republic Steel Cuts Dividend

CLEVELAND (AP) — Republic Steel Corp. has cut its quarterly dividend by one-third to make more money available for capital improvements to meet competition.

President Thomas F. Patton said action of the directors Tuesday in reducing the dividend from 75 cents a share to 50 cents was the result of what he called a profit squeeze.

Republic, the nation's third largest steel producer, is the first among the major steel companies to reduce payments to shareholders since the unsuccessful attempt to raise prices in April. It was one of seven companies that announced price increases and then rescinded the hikes following angry reaction by President Kennedy and refusal of some other firms to go along.

"Our inability, both because of competitive conditions and of the display of power exhibited by the federal government, to maintain the $6 per ton general price increase announced by us in April has intensified this squeeze on our profits," Patton said.

He said when Republic started the present phase of its capital improvement and modernization program in 1959, it was anticipated that future earnings would permit reinvestment toward the cost of the improvements without any reduction in dividends.

However, he added, "Republic, like other companies in the steel industry, has been caught in a squeeze between incessantly rising labor and other costs on the one hand and conditions which have prevented the company from obtaining relief through higher prices for its products on the other."

Patton said that competition within the steel industry and with steel from foreign countries has made it imperative that Republic's improvement and modernization programs be accelerated and expanded.

Gas Fumes Kill 2 On Checking Of Storm Sewer

CANTON, Ohio (AP)—Two employes of the Stark County Engineer's Department were overcome by gas and killed Tuesday while checking storm sewer construction in nearby Perry Twp.

The victims were identified as Joseph Kuemerle, 35, and Norman Davis, 41, both of Canton. They were pronounced dead at Altman Hospital.

The accident occurred at Tioga Street and Perry Drive near Reedurban.

Sheriff's deputies said Davis went into the sewer and collapsed. When Kuemerle went to his rescue he also collapsed. Firemen wearing gas masks removed the pair from the sewer and took them to the hospital.

County Engineer William A. Laiblin said the victims were members of a crew checking a new storm sewer and 50 feet of pipe under Perry Drive.

"We had no reports of any escaping gas and knew of no gas in the area," he said.

Teachers Seek Power To Police Their Own Ranks

PAINESVILLE, Ohio (AP)—The Legislative Committee of the Ohio Education Association advocates presenting a bill to the legislature giving the teaching profession in Ohio the power to police its ranks as the law and medical professions do.

The proposal presented Tuesday by the 19-member committee calls for establishing a Professional Practices Commission comparable to those in Kentucky and other states.

The committee voted to recommend to the Executive Committee that the question of a Professional Practices Commission be placed before the OEA's representative assembly meeting in Columbus Nov. 30.

John H. Hall, director of public affairs for the OEA, said if the proposal gets majority support from the representative assembly a bill would be drafted for presentation to the legislature, probably next year.

Detroit Tiger outfielder Rocky Colavito pitched three innings for the Cleveland Indians in 1958, walking three, allowing no hits and striking out one.

Hints from Heloise

— By Heloise Cruse —

DEAR HELOISE: Did you ever get provoked because your flour cannister just won't hold five pounds of flour and there you are with flour left over for the weevils?

I solved this! At the same time, I also solved the problem of making gravy. Fill a big, heavy, dry iron skillet with leftover flour and place this in your oven at 250 Deg. Stir this every so often with your fork or pancake turner. Mash out all the little lumps as you stir, until the flour is brown.

At this low temperature, the flour won't burn. It may take a long time, but believe me . . . the good brown parched taste is well worth it. Be sure to let the flour bake until it is as brown as you can get it. Then store it in any old can or jar with a tight lid.

This concoction can be used in so many things and makes them so much better.

When you fry bacon, chicken or chops . . . even steak . . . use this. Then just stir in the proper amount of the mixture into the warm grease for gravy. No need to brown further. Just add milk or meat stock, season with salt and pepper, and you have the best gravy ever!

I have made a good gravy with this same concoction by adding a couple of cubes of bouillon. Don't knock it until you have tried it. It's terrific!

My mother-in-law browns a little flour in her dry iron skillet on top of the stove when she does not have any made up. This takes constant watching and stirring but works just as well.

You will have more compliments on your gravy and not much, if any, left, I'll tell you. I hope it helps you lumpy gravy-makers . . . nary a lump and it's always brown.

FELLOW SUFFERER.

Useful Vinegar

DEAR HELOISE: Me, too! Vinegar does so many things. There is nothing better for cleaning the dirtiest windows and mirrors than pure vinegar on a cloth, followed by wiping with a crumpled newspaper.

That "something" in the newsprint just does it. I believe the damper and more crumpled the paper becomes, the better it is. No lint! Just shine!

For the gals who use typewriters and have big families living in a million different places . . . do as we do in our family. Invest in typing paper and carbin paper and write the whole bloomin' family at the same time. You will love the results. We do! More letters to send and receive and better with pencil and carbon paper or a ball point pen.

MRS. L. C. KRUEGER.

Republic Steel Cuts Dividend

CLEVELAND (AP) — Republic Steel Corp. has cut its quarterly dividend by one-third to make more money available for capital improvements to meet competition.

President Thomas F. Patton said action of the directors Tuesday in reducing the dividend from 75 cents a share to 50 cents was the result of what he called a profit squeeze.

Republic, the nation's third largest steel producer, is the first among the major steel companies to reduce payments to shareholders since the unsuccessful attempt to raise prices in April. It was one of seven companies that announced price increases and then rescinded the hikes following angry reaction by President Kennedy and refusal of some other firms to go along.

"Our inability, both because of competitive conditions and of the display of power exhibited by the federal government, to maintain the $6 per ton general price increase announced by us in April has intensified this squeeze on our profits," Patton said.

He said when Republic started the present phase of its capital improvement and modernization program in 1959, it was anticipated that future earnings would permit reinvestment toward the cost of the improvements without any reduction in dividends.

However, he added, "Republic, like other companies in the steel industry, has been caught in a squeeze between incessantly rising labor and other costs on the one hand and conditions which have prevented the company from obtaining relief through higher prices for its products on the other."

Patton said that competition within the steel industry and with steel from foreign countries has made it imperative that Republic's improvement and modernization programs be accelerated and expanded.

Gas Fumes Kill 2 On Checking Of Storm Sewer

CANTON, Ohio (AP)—Two employes of the Stark County Engineer's Department were overcome by gas and killed Tuesday while checking storm sewer construction in nearby Perry Twp.

The victims were identified as Joseph Kuemerle, 35, and Norman Davis, 41, both of Canton. They were pronounced dead at Altman Hospital.

The accident occurred at Tioga Street and Perry Drive near Reedurban.

Sheriff's deputies said Davis went into the sewer and collapsed. When Kuemerle went to his rescue he also collapsed. Firemen wearing gas masks removed the pair from the sewer and took them to the hospital.

County Engineer William A. Laiblin said the victims were members of a crew checking a new storm sewer and 50 feet of pipe under Perry Drive.

"We had no reports of any escaping gas and knew of no gas in the area," he said.

Ann Landers

ANSWERS YOUR PROBLEMS

Dear Ann Landers: My father-in-law died seven months ago. Since that time I have felt like a widow because my husband has been with his mother almost every night.

For several weeks I said nothing because I knew she was depressed. I went with him at first but the cost of sitters made it impossible to keep it up. My mother-in-law has two teen-agers at home so it's not as if she is all by herself. She also has brothers, sisters, friends and neighbors who have been attentive.

It has reached the point where my husband automatically picks up right after supper and goes over there every night of the week. When he comes home I am asleep. What am I going to do about this mother-in-law problem? — MARRIED BUT ALONE.

Dear Alone: You don't have a mother-in-law problem — you have a husband problem. A man who leaves his wife every evening to go to the corner saloon, to play cards or to visit his mother demonstrates rather clearly that he prefers these places to home. The big question is why? What's wrong with home?

Have a talk with him and try to find out.

A Merry Widow

Dear Ann: We live in a very lovely apartment building (not far from you). A middle-aged divorced woman with a 7-year-old child lives next door. This woman is attractive and looks younger than she is.

Our son is 19 years old. He seems to enjoy this woman's company a great deal. When she sprained her ankle he drove her all over town to do errands. He also takes her little boy for haircuts.

He spends a lot more time over there than I think he should. At first we used to joke about it but now I don't think it's funny. The other evening I wanted him to haul some stuff down to the locker room for me and he was next door, as usual.

I walked in without knocking because I was mad. Well, I caught my son with his arms around this woman. He said they were dancing. There was no music. I feel like reporting her to the management. What is your advice? — THOROUGHLY DISGUSTED WITH CRADLE SNATCHERS.

Dear Thoroughly: A boy 19 isn't exactly in a cradle — and this isn't the building manager's problem. It's yours.

Your husband should have a frank talk with his son. This woman is too old and too experienced for him. A 19-year-old boy should be dating high school girls and college freshmen. Ordering him to stay away from her will do no good. Your husband should be frank, realistic and emphatic.

A Chance To Share

Dear Ann: Several months ago my parents were divorced. I was placed in a foster home by the court. These people are paid to take care of me so it is purely a money deal for them. They are very nice folks, however, and do their best to make me feel at home.

Several girls I go to school with have been especially kind to me since I've been placed with these foster parents. They have invited me to their homes for dinner and to their summer cottages for weekends.

I'd like to pay them back by inviting them to dinner but I hate to impose on the people I live with. After all, they are under no obligation to entertain my friends. Do you think it would be nervy of me to suggest it? I don't know who else to ask but you. — VERA.

Dear Vera: Ask for permission to invite one girl at a time. I'll bet your foster parents wouldn't mind at all. Make it clear you don't expect anything fancy or different. Tell them all you want is the opportunity to share whatever is on the table with a friend. Such a request wouldn't be out of line.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of The Review, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

COUNTY FAIR ATTRACTION. Feature of entertainment at the Columbiana County Fair at Lisbon Friday night will be the Doc Williams Show. When the 50 states' secretaries of state held a convention in Columbus, Ohio, Ohio Secretary of State Ted W. Brown started $1 savings accounts for each of the 50 in the Mandan bank.

Resident Of Elkton Honored On Approaching Marriage

Miss Betty Jane Evans of Elkton was honored at a bridal shower held Friday night by Miss Helen Reeder at her home.

Miss Evans, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Hughie Evans of the Elkton - Lisbon Rd., and Daniel Goforth, son of Mrs. Frank Steeley of Lisbon R. D. 5, will be married Sept. 16 at the Elkton Methodist Church.

Lunch was served by the hostess.

Cub Scout Pack 108 and their families held a picnic supper Sunday evening at Lake Eldorado, west of Lisbon. Thirty attended.

Horseshow pitching and miniature golf provided the entertainment. Kenneth Eells, cubmaster, said a ball game will be played tonight at 6:30 against Calcutta at the Elkton School.

Ann Landers

ANSWERS YOUR PROBLEMS

Dear Ann Landers: My father-in-law died seven months ago. Since that time I have felt like a widow because my husband has been with his mother almost every night.

For several weeks I said nothing because I knew she was depressed. I went with him at first but the cost of sitters made it impossible to keep it up. My mother-in-law has two teen-agers at home so it's not as if she is all by herself. She also has brothers, sisters, friends and neighbors who have been attentive.

It has reached the point where my husband automatically picks up right after supper and goes over there every night of the week. When he comes home I am asleep. What am I going to do about this mother-in-law problem? — MARRIED BUT ALONE.

Dear Alone: You don't have a mother-in-law problem — you have a husband problem. A man who leaves his wife every evening to go to the corner saloon, to play cards or to visit his mother demonstrates rather clearly that he prefers these places to home. The big question is why? What's wrong with home?

Have a talk with him and try to find out.

A Merry Widow

Dear Ann: We live in a very lovely apartment building (not far from you). A middle-aged divorced woman with a 7-year-old child lives next door. This woman is attractive and looks younger than she is.

Our son is 19 years old. He seems to enjoy this woman's company a great deal. When she sprained her ankle he drove her all over town to do errands. He also takes her little boy for haircuts.

He spends a lot more time over there than I think he should. At first we used to joke about it but now I don't think it's funny. The other evening I wanted him to haul some stuff down to the locker room for me and he was next door, as usual.

I walked in without knocking because I was mad. Well, I caught my son with his arms around this woman. He said they were dancing. There was no music. I feel like reporting her to the management. What is your advice? — THOROUGHLY DISGUSTED WITH CRADLE SNATCHERS.

Dear Thoroughly: A boy 19 isn't exactly in a cradle — and this isn't the building manager's problem. It's yours.

Your husband should have a frank talk with his son. This woman is too old and too experienced for him. A 19-year-old boy should be dating high school girls and college freshmen. Ordering him to stay away from her will do no good. Your husband should be frank, realistic and emphatic.

A Chance To Share

Dear Ann: Several months ago my parents were divorced. I was placed in a foster home by the court. These people are paid to take care of me so it is purely a money deal for them. They are very nice folks, however, and do their best to make me feel at home.

Several girls I go to school with have been especially kind to me since I've been placed with these foster parents. They have invited me to their homes for dinner and to their summer cottages for weekends.

I'd like to pay them back by inviting them to dinner but I hate to impose on the people I live with. After all, they are under no obligation to entertain my friends. Do you think it would be nervy of me to suggest it? I don't know who else to ask but you. — VERA.

Dear Vera: Ask for permission to invite one girl at a time. I'll bet your foster parents wouldn't mind at all. Make it clear you don't expect anything fancy or different. Tell them all you want is the opportunity to share whatever is on the table with a friend. Such a request wouldn't be out of line.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of The Review, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

COUNTY FAIR ATTRACTION. Feature of entertainment at the Columbiana County Fair at Lisbon Friday night will be the Doc Williams Show. Artists in the WWVA Jamboree at Wheeling for 23 years, the country and Western style music makers will perform in front of the grandstand. Doc is aided by his wife, Chickie, and their daughters as "The Sisters Three," Barbara, Madeline and Karen, known to the radio audience as Peeper, Poochie and Punkin. The show toured New York State, Ontario and Quebec last summer.

Bank Has Deposits From All 50 States

MANDAN, N. D. (AP) — The Mandan Security State Bank in this city of 12,000 now boasts savings deposits from all 50 states.

When the 50 states' secretaries of state held a convention in Columbus, Ohio, Ohio Secretary of State Ted W. Brown started $1 savings accounts for each of the 50 in the Mandan bank.

Brown is a long-time friend of Ben Meier, president of the Mandan bank and North Dakota's secretary of state.

Meier says some of the men have added to their accounts.

OGILVIE'S

TEEN-AGE MOVIE MAKERS

Two of the posse bring a pair of "bad guys" back to town, in scene from film.

The movie business is not for adults only. Recently, a team of youths, ages 15 through 18, Explorer Scouts to be exact, took over a Hollywood studio, and with all the finished touches of cinema experts, turned out a creditable 25-minute, 16mm color-sound Western, titled "Trouble at Sagebrush Mesa."

For nine successive Saturdays the eleven teen-agers—plus two adults as advisers—acted out a script they wrote themselves, helped dress the sets, handled the camera, and even cleaned up after the film was "put to bed." A nearby friendly stable specializing in mounts for movie and TV features lent them 10 horses.

Guiding the hands of this unusual movie group was veteran Art Viterelli, a production manager at the Disney lot where the movie was made. His son was nominal director. Viterelli helped the Scouts plot their film like the pros do, divide it into shooting segments, and choose locations. The youngsters took turns acting in front of the camera, and doing necessary chores behind it in preparation.

The "Sagebrush" opus has all the usual horse opera trappings—the sheriff, the culprits, the posse—but they move along without the usual cowboy-and-bandit violence.

The movie will be shown to Scout troops and posts, and rented to many. Funds will be used to finance a movie which they plan in modern dress.

A young visitor, John Gantt, was put to work handling panel which controlled lights and bell indicating silence on set.

While store interior was being photographed, Craig Slaughter managed sound equipment.

Director Bill Viterelli, back to camera, and Bill Slaughter practice some of the dramatics between scenes of their horse opera.

Richard Duke and Goeff Sunderland haul reflectors from one part of the western set to another. Boys did all the routine work.

In Bluefield, W. Va. Case

Cross-Examination Due Policeman In Theft Trial

PRINCETON, W.Va. (AP) — Attorneys for accused Bluefield (W.Va.) Patrolman Ted R. Land planned to cross-examine former Lt. Charles H. Fox again today, following testimony that the two officers were partners in a crime wave on the beat they shared.

Fox testified yesterday that he and Land, working as a team, robbed 15 to 18 business establishments located in Bluefield's west end.

The thefts occurred between 1946 and 1950, Fox said, while he and Land were assigned to the same patrol car.

Land is charged specifically in this case with breaking and entering the Crowder - Freeman automobile agency in Bluefield in September, 1950.

Six other officers, including Fox, face charges in connection with a series of thefts. Land is the first to face trial.

Fox, who resigned from the police force after his arrest, said he and Land stole more than $1,000 in cash from nine establishments he mentioned yesterday from the witness stand. In addition, they took record players, sewing machines, building materials, guns and household articles, he said.

Fox told the jury of eight men and four women that loot from the thefts was stored in a garage in downtown Bluefield. He said arrangements were made to have the garage rented for their use by Ira Mathena, convicted leader of a three-state, $100,000 theft ring.

Mathena was waiting in the witness room yesterday, but was not called to the stand. He is serving a term in Virginia for his part in the theft ring he headed, with which the alleged police robberies have been linked.

Fox said the garage was used for about three years.

Passage Through Berlin Wall

Family Will Be Reunited In Detroit After 25 Years

DETROIT (AP) — A family whose efforts to reunite found a passage through Berlin's wall expects to meet here today after 25 years of anguished separation.

Margaret Reuter's dream—one she thought could never be—is scheduled to come true at 6:15 p.m. when her mother steps down from a plane at Metropolitian Airport.

Helena Gruebnau, 77, who hasn't seen her daughter in 25 years and never has met her five grandchildren, passed through a Berlin checkpoint into the West Tuesday.

She was one of the very few allowed to cross to West Berlin by East German authorities since they built the wall a year ago.

"I tell you, it's the answer to our prayers," said Mrs. Reuter, whose home is in Grass Lake, a Jackson, Mich., suburb.

"We've been hoping and praying for this and now it's really happened."

The release climaxed years of effort, helped in recent months by G. Vernon Leopold, a Detroit attorney who was once a refugee himself.

Leopold entered the case last May after the death of Mrs. Gruebnau's husband, Jacob, in Mount Clemens, Mich. In Berlin to settle the estate, Leopold suggested he seek Mrs. Gruebnau's release.

Leopold told his wife here by phone Tuesday that Mrs. Gruebnau is "very relieved" to have made the passage.

Mrs. Gruebnau, who lived in Michigan and Wisconsin from 1913 to 1937, "wanted to go back and see her people," her daughter explained.

"She just stayed too long."

Mrs. Gruebnau lived in West Prussia until moving to Hartmannsdorf, near Dresden, after World War II.

Mother and daughter lost all contact during the war and, until Mrs. Gruebnau reached her daughter from the Soviet sector after the war, Mrs. Reuter thought her to be dead.

The Prayer Circle of the church will meet Sunday afternoon at 2. Foster will be in charge.

The weekly Bible Study group met Tuesday night at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Donald Hole. The Rev. Donald Retger of the Heights Baptist Church of East Liverpool was in charge.

The United Presbyterian Women's Association will meet Monday, Sept. 3, at 8 p. m. at the church annex. Mrs. Mildred Welce is president.

Mrs. Otis Gibson will conduct devotions and Mrs. Mildred Hole will be in charge of the study of St. John with the subject, "Sin and the Law."

Mrs. Ruth Daiger and Miss Florence Lyons will be co-hostesses.

Mr. and Mrs. Homer Moore and family will leave this week to spend the winter months at Ft. Myers, Fla. They are leaving early to permit their children to enter school.

Work Sought By Residents Of 5 Streets

Residents of five more streets have petitoned for low cost surfacing improvements, boosting to 14 the number of the projects sought since the city began accepting requests about two weeks ago.

Petitions filed in Safety - Service Director Robert Owen's office seek the improvements on these stretches: Hart Alley between Wedgewood St. and Andrews Ave.; Perry Ave. from North St. to Franklin St.; Kent St. from Maple St. to Beleek St.

An alley alongside Garfield School between State St. and Kent St., and N. Shady Ln. Dr. between Lisbon St. and Sturgis Ave., Fisher Park.

In three instances, the neighborhood committees filed certified or cashier's checks representing their 50 per cent of the improvement cost. The Hart Alley residents paid $148.58; Kent St. property - owners paid $247.80 and the N. Shady Ln. Dr. group paid $230.

Under a contract signed by the administration with Ohio Tar & Asphalt Co., Inc., of Canton, the property - owners' 50 per cent share of the work will be about 17½ cents a lineal foot. The city will pick up the bill for the balance.

Council already has appropriated $4,000 out of income tax funds to pay the city's share of the projects. The councilmen indicated more money will be made available for the city's share if public interest warrants.

Owen said the number of projects requested has reached the point now that the Canton contractor can move in and begin work as soon as its equipment is freed from other jobs. He said he expects to contact the company soon to attempt to decide on a mutually - agreeable starting date for the work.

Contracts Due For Finishing Of Freeway

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Highway Director E. S. Preston says contracts will be let this year that will insure motorists complete freeway driving between Columbus and Cincinnati by 1964.

Preston said all remaining segments of the Southwestern Ohio leg of Interstate 71, the North-South Freeway, will be placed under contract this year.

The new work on Interstate 71, coupled with extension of the Cincinnati Circle Freeway from U.S. 42 to I-71 and from I-71 to U.S. 22, will cost $72 million, he said. Only the Northeast Freeway in Cincinnati will remain to be finished, but in the meantime a freeway connection to downtown Cincinnati will be available in the Mill Creek Expressway.

Thirteen interchanges have been approved along the 76-mile portion of Interstate 71 involved in the new contracts: the Circle Freeway, King's Mills Road, relocated Ohio 48, Ohio 123, Wilmington Road, Ohio 73, U.S. 68, Ohio 72, U.S. 35, Ohio 70, Ohio 38, Ohio 56 and U.S. 62-Ohio 3.

An additional interchange at Fields-Ertel Road along the Hamilton-Warren County line has been requested from the Bureau of Public Roads.

Plan For Extending Ohio 91 Is Signed

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—A contract to plan an extension of Ohio 91 in Lake County has been signed by the consulting firm of Adache Associates, Inc., Cleveland, with the Ohio Department of Highways.

The Highway Department says the four-mile long improvement, expected to cost $7 million, will provide a shorter and safer route to shopping centers, hospitals and schools between Willoughby, Willowick and Eastlake. The construction plans probably will be ready by next July.

2 Freed Yanks Leave For U.S.

MANILA, Philippines (AP) — Two American military men released by pro-Communist forces in Laos left Clark Air Force base today for the United States.

The Air Force said Maj. Lawrence Bailey of Laurel, Md., will go to a hospital in Washington, D.C., and Sgt. Orville Ballenger of Columbus, Ohio, will go to a hospital in North Carolna.

An Air Force spokesman said the two men are "all right, but apparently they need another checkup." They traveled in a military plane that was scheduled to stop en route at Travis Air Force Base, California.

Bailey and Ballenger were released in Vientiane, Laos, last Friday along with three U.S. civilians and a Filipino. All had been captives for more than a year.

In Bluefield, W. Va. Case

Cross-Examination Due Policeman In Theft Trial

PRINCETON, W.Va. (AP) — Attorneys for accused Bluefield (W.Va.) Patrolman Ted R. Land planned to cross-examine former Lt. Charles H. Fox again today, following testimony that the two officers were partners in a crime wave on the beat they shared.

Fox testified yesterday that he and Land, working as a team, robbed 15 to 18 business establishments located in Bluefield's west end.

The thefts occurred between 1946 and 1950, Fox said, while he and Land were assigned to the same patrol car.

Land is charged specifically in this case with breaking and entering the Crowder - Freeman automobile agency in Bluefield in September, 1950.

Six other officers, including Fox, face charges in connection with a series of thefts. Land is the first to face trial.

Fox, who resigned from the police force after his arrest, said he and Land stole more than $1,000 in cash from nine establishments he mentioned yesterday from the witness stand. In addition, they took record players, sewing machines, building materials, guns and household articles, he said.

Fox told the jury of eight men and four women that loot from the thefts was stored in a garage in downtown Bluefield. He said arrangements were made to have the garage rented for their use by Ira Mathena, convicted leader of a three-state, $100,000 theft ring.

Mathena was waiting in the witness room yesterday, but was not called to the stand. He is serving a term in Virginia for his part in the theft ring he headed, with which the alleged police robberies have been linked.

Fox said the garage was used for about three years.

Passage Through Berlin Wall

Family Will Be Reunited In Detroit After 25 Years

DETROIT (AP) — A family whose efforts to reunite found a passage through Berlin's wall expects to meet here today after 25 years of anguished separation.

Margaret Reuter's dream—one she thought could never be—is scheduled to come true at 6:15 p.m. when her mother steps down from a plane at Metropolitan Airport.

Helena Gruebnau, 77, who hasn't seen her daughter in 25 years and never has met her five grandchildren, passed through a Berlin checkpoint into the West Tuesday.

She was one of the very few allowed to cross to West Berlin by East German authorities since they built the wall a year ago.

"I tell you, it's the answer to our prayers," said Mrs. Reuter, whose home is in Grass Lake, a Jackson, Mich., suburb.

"We've been hoping and praying for this and now it's really happened."

The release climaxed years of effort, helped in recent months by G. Vernon Leopold, a Detroit attorney who was once a refugee himself.

Leopold entered the case last May after the death of Mrs. Gruebnau's husband, Jacob, in Mount Clemens, Mich. In Berlin to settle the estate, Leopold suggested he seek Mrs. Gruebnau's release.

Leopold told his wife here by phone Tuesday that Mrs. Gruebnau is "very relieved" to have made the passage.

Mrs. Gruebnau, who lived in Michigan and Wisconsin from 1913 to 1937, "wanted to go back and see her people," her daughter explained.

"She just stayed too long."

Mrs. Gruebnau lived in West Prussia until moving to Hartmannsdorf, near Dresden, after World War II.

Mother and daughter lost all contact during the war and, until Mrs. Gruebnau reached her daughter from the Soviet sector after the war, Mrs. Reuter thought her to be dead.

Work Sought By Residents Of 5 Streets

Residents of five more streets have petitoned for low cost surfacing improvements, boosting to 14 the number of the projects sought since the city began accepting requests about two weeks ago.

Petitions filed in Safety - Service Director Robert Owen's office seek the improvements on these stretches: Hart Alley between Wedgewood St. and Andrews Ave.; Perry Ave. from North St. to Franklin St.; Kent St. from Maple St. to Beleek St.

An alley alongside Garfield School between State St. and Kent St., and N. Shady Ln. Dr. between Lisbon St. and Sturgis Ave., Fisher Park.

In three instances, the neighborhood committees filed certified or cashier's checks representing their 50 per cent of the improvement cost. The Hart Alley residents paid $148.58; Kent St. property - owners paid $247.80 and the N. Shady Ln. Dr. group paid $230.

Under a contract signed by the administration with Ohio Tar & Asphalt Co., Inc., of Canton, the property - owners' 50 per cent share of the work will be about 17½ cents a lineal foot. The city will pick up the bill for the balance.

Council already has appropriated $4,000 out of income tax funds to pay the city's share of the projects. The councilmen indicated more money will be made available for the city's share if public interest warrants.

Owen said the number of projects requested has reached the point now that the Canton contractor can move in and begin work as soon as its equipment is freed from other jobs. He said he expects to contact the company soon to attempt to decide on a mutually - agreeable starting date for the work.

Contracts Due For Finishing Of Freeway

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Highway Director E. S. Preston says contracts will be let this year that will insure motorists complete freeway driving between Columbus and Cincinnati by 1964.

Preston said all remaining segments of the Southwestern Ohio leg of Interstate 71, the North-South Freeway, will be placed under contract this year.

The new work on Interstate 71, coupled with extension of the Cincinnati Circle Freeway from U.S. 42 to I-71 and from I-71 to U.S. 22, will cost $72 million, he said. Only the Northeast Freeway in Cincinnati will remain to be finished, but in the meantime a freeway connection to downtown Cincinnati will be available in the Mill Creek Expressway.

Thirteen interchanges have been approved along the 76-mile portion of Interstate 71 involved in the new contracts: the Circle Freeway, King's Mills Road, relocated Ohio 48, Ohio 123, Wilmington Road, Ohio 73, U.S. 68, Ohio 72, U.S. 35, Ohio 70, Ohio 38, Ohio 56 and U.S. 62-Ohio 3.

An additional interchange at Fields-Ertel Road along the Hamilton-Warren County line has been requested from the Bureau of Public Roads.

Plan For Extending Ohio 91 Is Signed

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—A contract to plan an extension of Ohio 91 in Lake County has been signed by the consulting firm of Adache Associates, Inc., Cleveland, with the Ohio Department of Highways.

The Highway Department says the four-mile long improvement, expected to cost $7 million, will provide a shorter and safer route to shopping centers, hospitals and schools between Willoughby, Willowick and Eastlake. The construction plans probably will be ready by next July.

2 Freed Yanks Leave For U.S.

MANILA, Philippines (AP) — Two American military men released by pro-Communist forces in Laos left Clark Air Force base today for the United States.

The Air Force said Maj. Lawrence Bailey of Laurel, Md., will go to a hospital in Washington, D.C., and Sgt. Orville Ballenger of Columbus, Ohio, will go to a hospital in North Carolna.

An Air Force spokesman said the two men are "all right, but apparently they need another checkup." They traveled in a military plane that was scheduled to stop en route at Travis Air Force Base, California.

Bailey and Ballenger were released in Vientiane, Laos, last Friday along with three U.S. civilians and a Filipino. All had been captives for more than a year.

Junior Editors Quiz on BIRDS

QUESTION: Is the owl really a wise bird?

★ ★ ★

ANSWER: When an owl looks at you with those huge staring eyes, it certainly seems as if he knew a great deal. The idea that the owl is wise is a very ancient one; in Greece the owl was the sacred animal of the Goddess of Wisdom, Athena. Actually, however, the owl is no smarter than other birds and there are a number of birds, such as crows, which definitely have more brains. The wise look comes from the arrangement of the owl's eyes in his head. As our picture shows, most other birds look sideways, some directly so, others partly. But the owl's eyes, besides being very large so that he can see in the dark, are placed just as the eyes of a human being are, so that they look directly ahead, and this gives the owl a strangely human look. Perhaps an owl might disagree, but it's true that human beings are smart, so that a bird which looks like or resembles a human being is called smart, whether he really is so or not.

★ ★ ★

FOR YOU TO DO: Get a piece of stiff cardboard and mark out a circle on it, drawing it around a 10 inch dinner plate. Sketch a couple of ears as we show at lower left. Cut holes for your eyes and an opening for your nose. Then draw or paint in plenty of feathers, cut it out, hold over your face. You'll see an owl that really is smart!

Bringing Up A Family

By GARRY C. MEYERS

Hard Work Will Build Up Children

Of the 6,390,000 men drafted into the Armed Forces since 1948, more than 40 per cent were turned down chiefly because of physical deficiencies. Several years ago two eminent Americans administered six tests for muscular strength and co-ordination to 7,134 children in Switzerland, Austria, Italy and the United States. While only 8.7 per cent of the European boys and girls failed to pass these tests, 57.9 per cent of the American children failed. The United States has been trounced by the Soviet Union in the International Olympics of the past two summers. Previously, for half a century the U. S. had dominated the Olympics.

OUR ATHLETIC programs in high school and college pick out a handful of students for the varsity teams and the multitude of other youths go to sit and watch. Relatively few pupils and students really participate in sports. Nearly all children ride to school even when only a few blocks away; they also ride when going to any other place.

Former Secretary Ribicoff has come up with a national physical fitness program designed by President Kennedy's special consultant, Charles B. Wilkinson, to challenge our youngsters to grow up as active participants in sports rather than inactive spectators.

It urges every elementary and secondary school to provide the necessary program to build strong bodies in children and youth. But it may be a long while before the public schools will do much about it, though we can expect to see progress in places.

However, the Boy Scouts of America, limited though they are in the number of children involved, have already launched a new fitness program that will affect about 4,000,000 youngsters.

THE SCHOOL could do much more than the Ribicoff - Wilkinson program proposes and at little or no added cost. It could quit, for instance, hauling children within a mile or so of school. It could have every classroom teacher lead his or her children in simple setting-up exercises requiring no equipment.

But with the idea of making all physical education a matter of play dominating our leaders of physical education, setting-up exercises hardly will get a place.

Also, parents clamor to have all their children hauled by the school in buses or they take their youngsters to school within a few blocks or let their high school youngsters drive to school.

Parents who can afford it send their children to summer camp where the appeal is to play. Children need to go to work camps.

Do many parents really want their children to have strong characters and practice in doing hard physical and mental work?

My bulletin "Educating Your Child in Responsibility" may be had by sending a self-addressed stamped envelope to me in care of The Review.
